Senate Votes Air Fund Hike

Congress Passes $33 Billion Road Bill

$14.8 Billion In Tax Hikes To Be Levied

President Expected To Sign "Urgent" Measure Promptly

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The 33-billion-dollar highway bill, biggest nondefense spending program in history, was passed by Congress today and sent to President Eisenhower.

Congressional action was completed by an 89-1 roll-call vote in the Senate. The lone dissenter was Sen. Long (D-La). Earlier in the day, the House passed the bill by voice vote and without debate.

The roadbuilding program includes just about everything Eisenhower requested, except for bond financing of the federal outlays. Congressional Democrats succeeded in substituting tax boosts to help pay for the 13-year program.

Eisenhower has listed the highway bill as an "urgent" item on his program for Congress. Supporters of the legislation expect him to sign it promptly, perhaps this week.

$14.8 Billion In Tax Hikes

The bill provides for a $14,800,000,000 hike in taxes to be levied on highway users in the next 16 years. These will go into effect July 1 if Eisenhower signs it by that time.

One of the tax boosts would add 1 cent to the present 2-cents-a-gallon federal tax on gasoline and motor fuels.

The measure represents a compromise, worked out last week, of differing bills voted earlier by the two branches. Some Congress members have termed it "the greatest governmental construction program in the history of the world."

Its major feature calls for a 14,000 mile network of interstate superhighways to cost some 27½ billion dollars. The federal government would pay 90 per cent of the bill; the states the rest.

Fallon Enthusiastic

Rep. Fallon (D-Md), coauthor of the measure with Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), describes the interstate system as "broad, straight, trouble-free roads, four to eight lanes wide, criss - crossing America from coast to coast and border to border."

The system would connect 42 state capitals and 90 per cent of all cities of over 50,000 population.

Federal spending on existing road programs also would be greatly increased under the bill's provisions. These outlays would total $2,550,000,000 in the next three years and would be matched 50-50 by state contributions.

Additional sums would be spent on roads in national parks and forests and on Indian reservations, bringing total spending to $32,900,000,000.

President's Aide Will Not Testify In "Leak" Probe

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) called upon the White House today to explain how an author got copies of documents "more secret" than some the administration has withheld from Congress.

The demand from the chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee came after White House aide Maxwell Rabb turned down an invitation to testify before the subcommittee.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called Rabb's refusal to testify "inexcusably arrogant." He said Rabb should be punished for contempt.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a subcommittee member who missed today's session, told a reporter it looked to him like "a general political salvo in the general direction of the White House."

Had he been consulted about the move to question Rabb, Mundt said, he would have suggested that "they first decide what they want to find out, and secondly who has the information, instead of firing a general political salvo in the direction of the White House."

Instead of showing up to testify as McClellan had asked in a telegram, Rabb sent the chairman a letter saying "there is nothing I can add" to his denial yesterday that he or any of his staff "leaked" official documents to author Robert J. Donovan. Accordingly, Rabb added, he must "respectfully decline" to appear.

Donovan is author of a forthcoming book on the administration, "Inside Story." He wrote it while on leave of absence as White House correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune.

Ike Pledged Support Of GOP Governors

Adlai Leads In States With Demo Chiefs

ALTANTIC CITY, June 26 (AP)—Republican governors put their second term support for President Eisenhower in writing today while a survey turned up strong backing in states with Democratic governors for Adlai E. Stevenson to oppose him.

Gov. Averell Harriman still was in their pitching for the Democratic nomination, though.

The New Yorker invited all the Democrats attending the 58th annual governors' conference to a cocktail party in his hotel suite—including those who like Stevenson.

There was one of those "did-didn't" disputes about whether Gov. Alan Shivers of Texas got a bid. Shivers, who is no admirer of either Harriman or Stevenson, said he didn't. Harriman said he did.

20 Sign Manifesto

A formal petition, declaring the Republican governors' "wholehearted approval" of the administration and urging and pledging "our full support" to Eisenhower's nomination and re-election, was signed quickly by 20 of the 21 Republican governors.

Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana, an ardent Eisenhower backer, had left the conference and didn't sign. Third on the list of those who did was J. Bracken Lee of Utah, who frequently has criticized fiscal and foreign policies of the administration.

The manifesto was circulated by Gov. Fred Hall of Kansas, with the advance knowledge and approval of the White House representative at the conference—former Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona, who now is an aide to Eisenhower. And it was known Pyle got an OK from the White House itself.

Stevenson Shows Strongly

Democrats were showing no signs of circulating any petition either for Stevenson or Harriman. If they did, it wouldn't produce anything like unanimity.

A half dozen or more governors are openly committed to Stevenson, one to Harriman, and the rest still are officially unfettered.

But an Associated Press survey of Democratic opinion represented at the conference indicated Stevenson has a good claim to around 400 votes at the Democratic National Convention in August from the 27 states with Democratic governors.

That's a big start on the 686½ votes needed to clinch the nomination. And, on the basis of the survey, Stevenson could do that by breaking even on Democratic delegates from Republican-controlled states.

Search Apology Sent To Lehman

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-NY) told the Senate today he has received an "apology" from the Defense Department and Secretary Wilson's "personal regret" for the search of his Senate office by two defense security agents.

The search last Wednesday brought a protest from Lehman and he was joined by other Senators who called it an invasion of senatorial privacy. The agents, with a capital policeman, had checked for any listening devices a store room in Lehman's office which was next to a room where secret hearings were being held on air power policies.

Lehman's principal complaint was that his permission was not asked. Senate Democratic leader Johnson of Texas denounced the incident as one involving "bureaucratic flat-foot stupidity."

The letter was written by Mansfield T. Sprague, general counsel for the Defense Department.

Sprague wrote it was "unfortunate" the agents did not get Lehman's permission in advance. He emphasized that the search at the senator's office "is no reflection whatsoever, sir, but was solely a coincidence based on its proximity" to the hearing room.

Nehru Voices Hope For Talks With Ike

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India told President Eisenhower today he hopes their postponed talks may be held "in the future." Nehru did not, however, propose a new date for a meeting.

Eisenhower and Nehru originally planned to meet starting July 7 at Camp David in the nearby Maryland mountains. The talks were postponed because Eisenhower felt he might not be fully recovered from his intestinal operation by that time.

In a letter to Nehru, released yesterday, the President invited the Indian leader to suggest a new date and said he should consider this an "urgent invitation" to meet with him.

Nehru, in a reply, delivered through the Indian Embassy here today, voiced hope that "a further opportunity may present itself in the future for such a meeting."

Proposal To Revolutionize TV Operations Disclosed

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)— A tentative long-term proposal for revolutionizing television operations and a more immediate program for relieving current problems were made public today by the Federal Communications Commission.

The commission asked for comment, to be submitted by Oct. 1, "on the possibility of ultimately shifting all or a major portion of TV operation" to the Ultra High Frequency channels—those numbered 14 through 83.

Meanwhile, it proposed to authorize all-UHF telecasting in some cities in scattered areas of the country.

This shift, and others to follow, is aimed at eliminating competition in a single area between stations transmitting on UHF frequencies and those using Very High Frequency channels, numbered 2 through 13.

The commission said it will act as rapidly as possible to shift channel allocations in cities where the competitive problem exists.

It suggested that ultimately the VHF channels might be abandoned entirely. Or, it said, the Eastern half of the United States might be made all UHF, leaving VHF operations—which cover more territory—to the wide open spaces of the West.

The idea has been advanced before by some individual experts, in relation to the difficulties encountered by many UHF outlets in bucking established VHF competition. VHF dates from the start of television. The 70 UHF channels were created only four years ago.

Experts estimate a shift to UHF would require at least 10 years of gradual transition, to protect the billions of dollars invested by the public and the industry in VHF transmitters and receiving sets.

Elderly Man Killed In Baltimore Plunge

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP) — A 72-year-old man plunged to his death late today from the 10th floor of a downtown bank building.

Police identified the victim as Gregory Kamen of Baltimore.

His body was found on the roof of a three-story building adjoining the bank, directly under an open window on the 10th floor of the bank. It was not determined immediately whether Kamen jumped or fell to his death.

Living Costs Equal Record Level Of 1953

Labor Department Reports Index Due To Go Even Higher

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Living costs for American families are now equal to the all-time peak of three years ago and appear to be rising toward new record levels this summer.

The government reported today its living cost index rose a whopping four-tenths of one per cent in May — largest increase for any month in the three years.

The Labor Department's index jumped to 115.4 per cent of the 1947-49 base period, matching the record set in October 1953. Living costs in May were 1.1 per cent higher than a year earlier.

At the same time, the take-home pay of factory workers fell off somewhat.

Food Prices Increase

Ewan Clague, labor statistics commissioner, said virtually all major consumer cost items are moving upward and seem sure to continue on that trend through the summer months. Since food is a big item in the index, the upward spiral might be halted when more plentiful fall crop harvests come.

Food prices particularly increased in May, confirming laments heard from housewives following their weekly trips to the grocery stores.

A 1.3 per cent hike in food in May was the largest monthly boost in three years. However, food is slightly below last year's level and nearly 5 per cent below its August 1952 peak.

Take-Home Pay Drops

Clague said increases in wholesale prices experienced in 1955 and early 1956 are gradually being passed on to the consumer, particularly in the food line.

In contrast, the Labor Department reported that weekly take-home pay of factory production workers declined by about 46 cents between April and May, resulting from a generally shorter work week.

The smaller pay envelope and the rise in living costs resulted in a one per cent decline in the average factory worker's purchasing power.

Twining Praises School For Red Air Technicians

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP)—Visiting air generals from the United States, Britain, and other countries today praised the school that turns out the top technician officers of the Soviet air force.

"We have no school like this," said Gen. Nathan Twining, U.S. Air Force chief of staff. "It's a good system, but ours is good, too. They accomplish the same purpose."

The school is the Zhukovsky Air Engineering Academy. It is housed in an unimposing cluster of brick buildings in Moscow only a mile from the Sovietskaya Hotel where the generals are staying. The school is named for Nikolai Zhukovsky, a pioneer in Soviet aerodynamics.

Correspondents who went along with the generals were not allowed past the school's gates.

The school, run by the Red air force, offers a five-year course and has an annual enrollment of about 2,000.

Students are chosen from among officers who have served four or five years in the air force. They go back to that service after completing their course. Most of them are not pilots.

Violence Flares In Peruvian Strike

LIMA, Peru, June 26 (AP) —Violence flared in Lima and the nearby Port of Callao today as police tried to cope with strikers who virtually paralyzed business activity in the two cities.

Roving bands stoned shop windows and streetcars, set fire to two buses and a streetcar, and attacked the marketplaces before being cleared from the streets.

Fourteen persons received hospital treatment for injuries at Callao. Order was restored about noon in Lima after assault police reinforced mounted police.

UN Council Bars Algerian Debate

France Upheld By 7-2 Margin

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 26 (INS)—The U. N. Security Council refused tonight to accept an Arab demand that it consider the question of intervening for a cease-fire in Algeria.

The 11-nation body barred the issue from its agenda by a vote of seven against, including the United States, Britain and France.

Russia and Iran voted for placing the item on the agenda. China and Yugoslavia abstained.

Other voting against it were Peru, Cuba, Australia and Belgium.

Iran Envoy Blasts France

The Security Council acted after a day-long debate in which Ambassador Djalal Abdoh of Iran, only Moslem member and spokesman for the Arab League, charged France with leveling entire villages in Algeria and killing 100,000 nationalists in what he said had flared into a war threatening peace and security.

French Ambassador Herve Alphand firmly declared that France cannot accept U. N. intervention in Algeria on the grounds that it is a French metropolitan territory.

He said the violence and terrorism against France sparked by the Algerian nationalists is blocking a speedy solution on Democratic lines of government.

"Not Time," Lodge Says

Soviet Delegate A. A. Sobolev maintained that the Security Council should have given the 13 signatories of the letter requesting U. N. intervention an opportunity to state their viewpoints on the Algerian issue.

U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said that "this is not the time" for debating the Algerian question or to further its solution. He emphasized that a "constructive solution must be found as quickly as possible so that the Algerian people can live together in peace."

The Security Council turned down a Russian proposal for deferring all discussion on the issue indefinitely and debated until 6 p. m. (EDT) whether to put the Arab demand on Algeria on the agenda.

The Russian move, defeated by seven votes out of a possible 11, was aimed at giving the Arabs a tactical victory over the West.

Rioting Brings Military Rule To Guatemala

GUATEMALA, June 26 (AP) — President Carlos Castillo Armas clamped military rule on Guatemala today after a death-dealing clash last night between police and university students accused of Communist agitation.

The police fired on students demonstrating on the Guatemalan capital's main avenue. Three students were killed instantly and two more died during the night. Seventeen others were wounded.

Policeman Killed

The government said one policeman was killed and three were wounded. Officials said the slain policeman's body had disappeared.

The students, half of them girls, were marching on the palace to protest a state of alarm proclaimed Sunday after an antigovernment demonstration was put down.

Castillo Armas, a former military man, declared the state of siege, a modified form of martial law. This meant stricter controls than were provided under the state of alarm.

All constitutional guarantees have been suspended for 30 days.

Linked To Red Plot

Security chief Ismael Ortiz Orellana said the student demonstration was linked with a Communist plot to overthrow the government. He said the government knows of a plan by exiles to invade Guatemala from Nicaragua and El Salvador late this month.

He said the army was expecting the invasion "at any moment."

Ortiz Orellana said 168 persons were arrested after last night's clash. With 35 arrested when police broke up the Sunday demonstration, this meant 203 were in jail.

Parliament Fired By Jordan's King

AMMAN, Jordan, June 26 (AP)—King Hussein fired Jordan's Parliament tonight at the request of Premier Said Mufti.

The premier reported the government had noticed in the last two days that some members were grouping together to create difficulties and obstacles for personal reasons.

He disclosed that the troubles grew out of crises that followed the recent firing of British Lt. Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb as commander of the Arab Legion and the offers of aid from neighbor Arab countries.

Britain still subsidizes the Arab Legion—now the Jordan national army—and still has officers in it. Saudi Arabia and Egypt have offered to provide the subsidy if Jordan will break with Britain.

No date for new election was announced.

U.S. Manufacturer Flies Banned Goods To Russia

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP)—William P. Lear, an American aviation equipment maker, flew here today with a small planeload of material that NATO bars from delivery to the Soviet bloc.

He brought it for inspection by Russian experts, apparently with trade in mind by way of Switzerland.

But before he could show his wares he experienced a keen embarrassment at the airport. His plane stalled on the landing strip and had to be towed.

Lear was accompanied by his wife and a Russian navigator on a flight from Berlin with a refueling stop at Vilna. He was the first Westerner legally to fly a personal plane into Moscow.

Lear told reporters Russia wanted to buy automatic pilots and flight control machinery such as his company makes. Although his equipment is on the NATO embargo list for Iron Curtain countries, Lear indicated his new factory headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, could sell to the Communists.

Lear moved his headquarters to Geneva from Los Angeles, and Santa Monica, Calif. He has aviation equipment factories at Grand Rapids, Mich., and Elyria, Ohio.

He told reporters he understood negotiations were under way for the Soviet purchase of three French Caravelle jet passenger transports that use his equipment.

He did not explain specifically how this would be done but commented "the embargoes will not last long."

Alexander Vladimilov, of the Ministry of Foreign Trade, met the Lears. No representative of the U.S. Embassy was there. It was understood the State Department took a dim view.

Defense Measure Passed 88-0 After $960 Million Added

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The Senate rejected President Eisenhower's assessment of the nation's air power needs today and voted nearly a billion dollars more than he wanted for the Air Force in fiscal 1957.

The 48-40 roll-call vote was a smashing victory for Senate Democrats, who refused to accept assurances of administration leaders that the Air Force would have enough money to keep ahead of Russia in the struggle for world air supremacy.

Voting was preceded by a bitter attack on Secretary of Defense Wilson, who was called inept, vain, arrogant and contemptuous of Congress.

The extra Air Force money, most of it earmarked for improved aircraft, was added to the Defense Department's budget for the 12 months beginning next Sunday.

Defense Bill Passed 88-0

Then the Senate passed the 35-billion-dollar defense measure on a routine roll-call vote of 88-0. The big bill provides about 16½ billion for the Air Force, 10 billion for the Navy and Marine Corps and 7½ billion for the Army. The balance would go for miscellaneous Defense Department needs.

The House has yet to act on the controversial air power issue, which is sure to reverberate in the election campaign this fall. If the House approves the extra money, it remains to be seen whether Eisenhower will spend it or impound it, as former President Truman once did with additional Air Force funds voted by Congress.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo), one of the leading advocates of more air power, conceded in advance of the voting that a Democratic victory might be only "theoretical," since the administration did not have to spend the extra money.

Strength Vital, Russell Says

But Sen. Russell (D-Ga) said the United States must have "the greatest strategic air force in the world" to make sure of "its protection and the maintenance of peace."

"Every free nation in the world" depends on the American air arm, Russell said.

While the Senate was voting more money for defense, the British government announced in London that it had trimmed about 140 million dollars off its approximately $4,200,000,000 defense budget as an anti-inflation measure.

Forty-three Democrats and five Republicans voted for the Senate amendment adding 960 million dollars to the Air Force budget. The Republicans were Sens. Francis Case (SD), Malone (Nev), McCarthy (Wis), Margaret Chase Smith (Maine) and Welker (Idaho).

Standing with the administration on the issue were 37 Republicans and three Democrats—Sens.

House Hears Ike Plea To Go Slow On Vet Pensions

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The House, squaring off for an election year battle over veterans pensions, heard a go-slow plea from President Eisenhower today.

An Eisenhower letter, dated May 30 before the President was hospitalized for abdominal surgery, was read to the House by Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio). The President had written the letter to Chairman Teague (D-Tex) of the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

In it, Eisenhower said he was convinced that findings of his Commission on Veterans Benefits, which reported recently, should be carefully evaluated "before such basic and far - reaching pension legislation as you mention is acted upon."

At the same time, Eisenhower expressed belief in recognizing the special sacrifices made by veterans and asserted:

"I further believe that our first obligation is to our war-disabled veterans, their widows and orphans. . ."

He added that he would want Congress, the public and the administration to study the pension program, "especially the basic principles and priorities involved," before taking any major action to change it.

Ayres supports the least-costly of three pension bills being debated by the House.

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) called upon the White House today to explain how an author got copies of documents "more secret" than some the administration has withheld from Congress.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called Rabb's refusal to testify "inexcusably arrogant." He said Rabb should be punished for contempt.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), a subcommittee member who missed today's session, told a reporter it looked to him like "a general political salvo in the general direction of the White House."

Had he been consulted about the move to question Rabb, Mundt said, he would have suggested that "they first decide what they want to find out, and secondly who has the information, instead of firing a general political salvo in the direction of the White House."

Instead of showing up to testify as McClellan had asked in a telegram, Rabb sent the chairman a letter saying "there is nothing I can add" to his denial yesterday that he or any of his staff "leaked" official documents to author Robert J. Donovan. Accordingly, Rabb added, he must "respectfully decline" to appear.

Donovan is author of a forthcoming book on the administration, "Inside Story." He wrote it while on leave of absence as White House correspondent for the New York Herald Tribune.

Ike Pledged Support Of GOP Governors

Adlai Leads In States With Demo Chiefs

ALTANTIC CITY, June 26 (AP)—Republican governors put their second term support for President Eisenhower in writing today while a survey turned up strong backing in states with Democratic governors for Adlai E. Stevenson to oppose him.

Gov. Averell Harriman still was in their pitching for the Democratic nomination, though.

The New Yorker invited all the Democrats attending the 58th annual governors' conference to a cocktail party in his hotel suite—including those who like Stevenson.

There was one of those "did-didn't" disputes about whether Gov. Alan Shivers of Texas got a bid. Shivers, who is no admirer of either Harriman or Stevenson, said he didn't. Harriman said he did.

20 Sign Manifesto

A formal petition, declaring the Republican governors' "wholehearted approval" of the administration and urging and pledging "our full support" to Eisenhower's nomination and re-election, was signed quickly by 20 of the 21 Republican governors.

Gov. George N. Craig of Indiana, an ardent Eisenhower backer, had left the conference and didn't sign. Third on the list of those who did was J. Bracken Lee of Utah, who frequently has criticized fiscal and foreign policies of the administration.

The manifesto was circulated by Gov. Fred Hall of Kansas, with the advance knowledge and approval of the White House representative at the conference—former Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona, who now is an aide to Eisenhower. And it was known Pyle got an OK from the White House itself.

Stevenson Shows Strongly

Democrats were showing no signs of circulating any petition either for Stevenson or Harriman. If they did, it wouldn't produce anything like unanimity.

A half dozen or more governors are openly committed to Stevenson, one to Harriman, and the rest still are officially unfettered.

But an Associated Press survey of Democratic opinion represented at the conference indicated Stevenson has a good claim to around 400 votes at the Democratic National Convention in August from the 27 states with Democratic governors.

That's a big start on the 686½ votes needed to clinch the nomination. And, on the basis of the survey, Stevenson could do that by breaking even on Democratic delegates from Republican-controlled states.

Search Apology Sent To Lehman

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-NY) told the Senate today he has received an "apology" from the Defense Department and Secretary Wilson's "personal regret" for the search of his Senate office by two defense security agents.

The search last Wednesday brought a protest from Lehman and he was joined by other Senators who called it an invasion of senatorial privacy. The agents, with a capital policeman, had checked for any listening devices a store room in Lehman's office which was next to a room where secret hearings were being held on air power policies.

Lehman's principal complaint was that his permission was not asked. Senate Democratic leader Johnson of Texas denounced the incident as one involving "bureaucratic flat-foot stupidity."

The letter was written by Mansfield T. Sprague, general counsel for the Defense Department.

Sprague wrote it was "unfortunate" the agents did not get Lehman's permission in advance. He emphasized that the search at the senator's office "is no reflection whatsoever, sir, but was solely a coincidence based on its proximity" to the hearing room.

Twining Praises School For Red Air Technicians

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP)—Visiting air generals from the United States, Britain, and other countries today praised the school that turns out the top technician officers of the Soviet air force.

"We have no school like this," said Gen. Nathan Twining, U.S. Air Force chief of staff. "It's a good system, but ours is good, too. They accomplish the same purpose."

The school is the Zhukovsky Air Engineering Academy. It is housed in an unimposing cluster of brick buildings in Moscow only a mile from the Sovietskaya Hotel where the generals are staying. The school is named for Nikolai Zhukovsky, a pioneer in Soviet aerodynamics.

Correspondents who went along with the generals were not allowed past the school's gates.

The school, run by the Red air force, offers a five-year course and has an annual enrollment of about 2,000.

Students are chosen from among officers who have served four or five years in the air force. They go back to that service after completing their course. Most of them are not pilots.

Rioting Brings Military Rule To Guatemala

GUATEMALA, June 26 (AP) — President Carlos Castillo Armas clamped military rule on Guatemala today after a death-dealing clash last night between police and university students accused of Communist agitation.

The police fired on students demonstrating on the Guatemalan capital's main avenue. Three students were killed instantly and two more died during the night. Seventeen others were wounded.

Policeman Killed

The government said one policeman was killed and three were wounded. Officials said the slain policeman's body had disappeared.

The students, half of them girls, were marching on the palace to protest a state of alarm proclaimed Sunday after an antigovernment demonstration was put down.

Castillo Armas, a former military man, declared the state of siege, a modified form of martial law. This meant stricter controls than were provided under the state of alarm.

All constitutional guarantees have been suspended for 30 days.

Linked To Red Plot

Security chief Ismael Ortiz Orellana said the student demonstration was linked with a Communist plot to overthrow the government. He said the government knows of a plan by exiles to invade Guatemala from Nicaragua and El Salvador late this month.

He said the army was expecting the invasion "at any moment."

Ortiz Orellana said 168 persons were arrested after last night's clash. With 35 arrested when police broke up the Sunday demonstration, this meant 203 were in jail.

Parliament Fired By Jordan's King

AMMAN, Jordan, June 26 (AP)—King Hussein fired Jordan's Parliament tonight at the request of Premier Said Mufti.

The premier reported the government had noticed in the last two days that some members were grouping together to create difficulties and obstacles for personal reasons.

He disclosed that the troubles grew out of crises that followed the recent firing of British Lt. Gen. Sir John Bagot Glubb as commander of the Arab Legion and the offers of aid from neighbor Arab countries.

Britain still subsidizes the Arab Legion—now the Jordan national army—and still has officers in it. Saudi Arabia and Egypt have offered to provide the subsidy if Jordan will break with Britain.

No date for new election was announced.

House Hears Ike Plea To Go Slow On Vet Pensions

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The House, squaring off for an election year battle over veterans pensions, heard a go-slow plea from President Eisenhower today.

An Eisenhower letter, dated May 30 before the President was hospitalized for abdominal surgery, was read to the House by Rep. Ayres (R-Ohio). The President had written the letter to Chairman Teague (D-Tex) of the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

In it, Eisenhower said he was convinced that findings of his Commission on Veterans Benefits, which reported recently, should be carefully evaluated "before such basic and far - reaching pension legislation as you mention is acted upon."

At the same time, Eisenhower expressed belief in recognizing the special sacrifices made by veterans and asserted:

"I further believe that our first obligation is to our war-disabled veterans, their widows and orphans. . ."

He added that he would want Congress, the public and the administration to study the pension program, "especially the basic principles and priorities involved," before taking any major action to change it.

Ayres supports the least-costly of three pension bills being debated by the House.

Nehru Voices Hope For Talks With Ike

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru of India told President Eisenhower today he hopes their postponed talks may be held "in the future." Nehru did not, however, propose a new date for a meeting.

Eisenhower and Nehru originally planned to meet starting July 7 at Camp David in the nearby Maryland mountains. The talks were postponed because Eisenhower felt he might not be fully recovered from his intestinal operation by that time.

In a letter to Nehru, released yesterday, the President invited the Indian leader to suggest a new date and said he should consider this an "urgent invitation" to meet with him.

Nehru, in a reply, delivered through the Indian Embassy here today, voiced hope that "a further opportunity may present itself in the future for such a meeting."

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 26 (AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman announced today that U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold plans to visit Chile in September.

Proposal To Revolutionize TV Operations Disclosed

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)— A tentative long-term proposal for revolutionizing television operations and a more immediate program for relieving current problems were made public today by the Federal Communications Commission.

The commission asked for comment, to be submitted by Oct. 1, "on the possibility of ultimately shifting all or a major portion of TV operation" to the Ultra High Frequency channels—those numbered 14 through 83.

Meanwhile, it proposed to authorize all-UHF telecasting in some cities in scattered areas of the country.

This shift, and others to follow, is aimed at eliminating competition in a single area between stations transmitting on UHF frequencies and those using Very High Frequency channels, numbered 2 through 13.

The commission said it will act as rapidly as possible to shift channel allocations in cities where the competitive problem exists.

It suggested that ultimately the VHF channels might be abandoned entirely. Or, it said, the Eastern half of the United States might be made all UHF, leaving VHF operations—which cover more territory—to the wide open spaces of the West.

The idea has been advanced before by some individual experts, in relation to the difficulties encountered by many UHF outlets in bucking established VHF competition. VHF dates from the start of television. The 70 UHF channels were created only four years ago.

Experts estimate a shift to UHF would require at least 10 years of gradual transition, to protect the billions of dollars invested by the public and the industry in VHF transmitters and receiving sets.

Elderly Man Killed In Baltimore Plunge

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP) — A 72-year-old man plunged to his death late today from the 10th floor of a downtown bank building.

Police identified the victim as Gregory Kamen of Baltimore.

His body was found on the roof of a three-story building adjoining the bank, directly under an open window on the 10th floor of the bank. It was not determined immediately whether Kamen jumped or fell to his death.

Violence Flares In Peruvian Strike

LIMA, Peru, June 26 (AP) —Violence flared in Lima and the nearby Port of Callao today as police tried to cope with strikers who virtually paralyzed business activity in the two cities.

Roving bands stoned shop windows and streetcars, set fire to two buses and a streetcar, and attacked the marketplaces before being cleared from the streets.

Fourteen persons received hospital treatment for injuries at Callao. Order was restored about noon in Lima after assault police reinforced mounted police.

U.S. Manufacturer Flies Banned Goods To Russia

MOSCOW, June 26 (AP)—William P. Lear, an American aviation equipment maker, flew here today with a small planeload of material that NATO bars from delivery to the Soviet bloc.

He brought it for inspection by Russian experts, apparently with trade in mind by way of Switzerland.

But before he could show his wares he experienced a keen embarrassment at the airport. His plane stalled on the landing strip and had to be towed.

Lear was accompanied by his wife and a Russian navigator on a flight from Berlin with a refueling stop at Vilna. He was the first Westerner legally to fly a personal plane into Moscow.

Lear told reporters Russia wanted to buy automatic pilots and flight control machinery such as his company makes. Although his equipment is on the NATO embargo list for Iron Curtain countries, Lear indicated his new factory headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, could sell to the Communists.

Lear moved his headquarters to Geneva from Los Angeles, and Santa Monica, Calif. He has aviation equipment factories at Grand Rapids, Mich., and Elyria, Ohio.

He told reporters he understood negotiations were under way for the Soviet purchase of three French Caravelle jet passenger transports that use his equipment.

He did not explain specifically how this would be done but commented "the embargoes will not last long."

Alexander Vladimilov, of the Ministry of Foreign Trade, met the Lears. No representative of the U.S. Embassy was there. It was understood the State Department took a dim view.

Break In Stalemated Steel Talks Indicated

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—An aura of "something brewing" developed today in the long-stalemated steel wage negotiations.

With a strike in the 650,000-man industry scheduled to start Saturday at midnight, efforts to find a solution reached a new pitch.

The United Steel workers called their 170-member Wage Policy Committee back for a meeting here Friday.

This sometimes means an agreement is in sight, but it also could mean simply that the union wants the committee here on a standby basis. The committee traditionally approves or rejects any negotiated agreement.

The union's 32-member international executive board also will meet here Friday. The union said both meetings "will be held for the purpose of reporting on the status of steel negotiations at that time."

Executives of various steel firms meanwhile were arriving in the city for consultation on any new twist the negotiations might take.

A mysteriously brief meeting between negotiators for the union and the Big Three steel firms—U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic—ended with word that both sides had "homework" to do.

Spokesmen were mum as to whether this meant that either side, or both, had submitted new proposals that would require study and consultation by the other.

The negotiators will reconvene jointly tomorrow at 10 a.m.

Md. Legislative Reference Dept. Founder Dies

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP) — Dr. Horace E. Flack, who was the "founding" father and for 45 years the guiding light of the Department of Legislative Reference, died today in a Baltimore nursing home after a long illness. He was 77.

Dr. Flack became ill during the 1952 session of the General Assembly and was forced to relinquish his duties as director. Dr. Carl Everstine temporarily headed the department and succeeded Dr. Flack as director two years ago.

The department, which started as a Baltimore muncipal bureau, became the first of its kind in the nation by an act of the State Legislature in 1907.

With no precedent to guide him and with an annual appropriation of $3,200, Dr. Flack—new holder of a doctor of philosophy degree from Johns Hopkins University—had to cut his own pattern for the bureau which grew into a state department in 1916 and into nation-wide recognition in later years.

In addition to collecting and indexing information on all questions of proposed legislation and preparing or aiding in the drafting of legislation for individual lawmakers or departments, the Department of Legislative Reference maintains a complete index and file on all bills introduced in the Maryland General Assembly from 1908 to the present. It also keeps the codes and laws of other states and a library comrising 19,000 books and 56,000 pamphlets and reports. It also supervises the archives of Baltimore City.

Although the filing cabinets in his offices in Annapolis and Baltimore were bulging, lawmakers and others constantly relied on Dr. Flack's own amazing accurate recollection of the law.

In addition to his job as director of the department, Dr. Flack served as secretary and research driector of the Legislative Council for years and in 1947 became director of the newly-created Fiscal Research Bureau.

Minister Confirms Roosevelt To Rewed

LOS ANGELES, June 26 (AP)—An Episcopalian minister confirmed today Rep. James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, will marry his secretary Sunday afternoon in the minister's home.

The Rev. George Lyon Pratt, pastor of the Church of the Advent, however, said he will not perform the ceremony uniting the Democratic congressman and Mrs. Gladys Irene Owens. It will be the third marriage for both.

Pratt, who said Roosevelt is one of his parishioners, said the ceremony will be conducted before about 20 to 25 personal friends of the couple by a pastor of another denomination. He refused to identify him.

The marriage talk came alive today after the congressman's wife, Romelle obtained her first divorce papers. Roosevelt declined comment and his Los Angeles aides referred callers direct to him.

Russell led the attack on Wilson, whom he described as "inept and unequipped for this responsible position."

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Wilson had treated Congress with an attitude "of disdain, yea, almost of contempt."

Speaking of a Cabinet member in terms seldom heard in the Senate, Russell said Wilson's "vanity and arrogance in congressional appearances has been exceeded only by his lack of understanding."

He accused Wilson of attempting to intimidate and gag career officers so they could not give the facts to Congress. There was no immediate defense of Wilson from the Republican side of the chamber.

Britain, Libya Agree

LONDON, June 26 (AP) — Britain and Libya reported tonight they reached full agreement in talks vital to Britain's embattled position in the Middle East.

Congregationalists Urge Nonsegregation Policies

OMAHA, June 26 (AP)—Congregational Christians today called for an end to racial discrimination in the housing market.

The church's General Council asked steps to "promote racial inclusiveness" in denominational colleges and other institutions.

Delegates representing 1,350,000 Christians also took these other actions:

1. Declared no federal officer "should be given power" to adjudge organizations or citizens as subversive.

2. Urged congressional committees to "safeguard the civil liberties" of witnesses, including giving them the right to face any accusers.

3. Condemned special "loyalty oaths" as a requirement for employment, residence in public housing or other citizen privileges.

4. Asked American leadership in achieving a "substantial reduction of armaments", with "safeguards against evasion of agreements."

5. Opposed "any intensification of nuclear weapon tests that would constitute a threat to world confidence in our peaceful intentions..."

6. Called for larger American programs of aid to economically depressed areas.

The council pledged its "support of nonsegregated practices in selling, buying and leasing property," and urged real estate agents to do the same.

It also asked that church support be extended to colleges, churches and other agencies that "are endeavoring to move toward racial inclusiveness."

This represented a modified version of an originally stronger resolution that would have made "racial nondiscrimination" a criteria to determine eligibility of colleges and other agencies for aid.

Congregational Christians now help support 22 colleges, some of which do not admit Negro students.

Dr. Thomas Anderson, Atlanta, Ga., urged the revised phrasing, saying it "leaves a certain latitude."

New Inquiries About Ike Plans Are Fended Off

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The White House today fended off another round of inquiries regarding President Eisenhower's second term intentions. It did so after Senate Republican Leader Knowland declared he has "no doubt" the President will stay in the race.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, continued to come up with stock replies to all questions on that matter—either "no comment" or an answer he has given scores of times since the President was hospitalized June 8:

"I have only one interest and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital."

Hagerty will have to dig up a new reply for newsmen this weekend after Eisenhower checks out of Walter Reed Army Hospital. Present indications are he will be discharged Friday or Saturday for a period of further convalescence at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Senate GOP Leader Knowland's assertion he has "no doubt" Eisenhower will remain in the presidential race was made at the White House this morning after he and other top congressional Republicans had conferred with White House aides regarding the legislative program.

Dulles Says Iceland Troop Cut Possible

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told senators today this country may have to cut the number of U. S. troops in Iceland and perhaps at other overseas bases in view of gains scored by Icelandic political parties which want to oust all U.S. forces.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), who presided at a closed door meeting of Republican senators with Dulles, said the secretary "avoided saying specifically" whether it may be necessary to withraw all troops from Iceland, but "he felt the vote there was such that it may be necessary to cut down" on the number of military people stationed there.

The five-star admiral, who was 77, died at Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday. His body was brought here for full military honors and funeral services.

King will be buried in the Naval Academy cemetery at Annapolis.

Negro Leader Suggests Dixie School Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—A Negro boycott of segregated Southern schools to force compliance with the Supreme Court's nonsegregation ruling was suggested here today by a leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott.

The Rev. Martin Luther King made the suggestion at a press conference in advance of the formal opening tonight of the 47th annual convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Horn Blowing Cracks Baltimore's Nerves

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—The automobile horn blowers have finally cracked Baltimore's nerves.

Chief Police Inspector Fred L. Ford today told every member of the force to start enforcing strictly a law against unnecessary blowing. Violators may be fined from $1 to $100 depending on the circumstances.

And to show he wasn't fooling, he ordered district commanders to give him a weekly report on prosecutions.

Solons Charge Warren Follows Red Party Line

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren was accused today by Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) of "following the Communist party line."

While stressing they did not accuse Warren of being a Communist, Eastland and McCarthy said the chief justice takes "the same position the Communists take. . . that they are just another political party."

The Supreme Court in general and Warren in particular came in for heavy criticism during a hearing on bills to nullify a 6-3 decision June 11 which held the federal employe security program does not apply to government workers in nonsensitive jobs.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) joined Eastland and McCarthy in denouncing the decision, contending it shot "a gaping hole" in the government's defenses against Communist infiltration. All three senators are sponsors of bills to override the court and restore the summary firing procedures of the security program to all federal workers.

Eastland presided as a one-man subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee, of which he is chairman. McCarthy and Mundt appeared in the role of witnesses.

With McCarthy on the witness said, Eastland asked if it isn't the "Communist line" that the Communst party is just another political party and isn't that "the same line the chief justice of the United States" has taken.

"Unfortunately, yes," McCarthy replied. While not accusing Warren of being a Communist "even remotely," McCarthy added, "There is something radically wrong with him."

Naval Academy Airfield Fund Cut

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee today knocked out 4 million dollars which the House had approved for the Navy to start work on a 17 million dollar airfield to serve the Naval Academy.

The cut was made as the committee recommended authorization of more than 200 military construction projects throughout the country, including nine in Maryland, costing $32,171,000.

The total cost approved by the Senate committee would be $2,106,611,000 for the year beginning July 1, or about 260 million more than is authorized in a bill passed earlier by the House.

Except for the Navy airfield cut, recommendations for Maryland projects were left unchanged from the House version.

In turning down the Navy's request to start construction of an airfield immediately near Davidsonville, the Senate committee inserted a section in the House bill which said:

"The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to obtain by contract such engineering, location and site planning studies as may be necessary to enable him to determine the feasibility and advisability of establishing continuing or locating the following facilities . . ." including the airfield.

William Otis of Massachusetts invented the steam shovel in 1838.

Md. Legislative Reference Dept. Founder Dies

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP) — Dr. Horace E. Flack, who was the "founding" father and for 45 years the guiding light of the Department of Legislative Reference, died today in a Baltimore nursing home after a long illness. He was 77.

Dr. Flack became ill during the 1952 session of the General Assembly and was forced to relinquish his duties as director. Dr. Carl Everstine temporarily headed the department and succeeded Dr. Flack as director two years ago.

The department, which started as a Baltimore muncipal bureau, became the first of its kind in the nation by an act of the State Legislature in 1907.

With no precedent to guide him and with an annual appropriation of $3,200, Dr. Flack—new holder of a doctor of philosophy degree from Johns Hopkins University—had to cut his own pattern for the bureau which grew into a state department in 1916 and into nationwide recognition in later years.

In addition to collecting and indexing information on all questions of proposed legislation and preparing or aiding in the drafting of legislation for individual lawmakers or departments, the Department of Legislative Reference maintains a complete index and file on all bills introduced in the Maryland General Assembly from 1908 to the present. It also keeps the codes and laws of other states and a library comrising 19,000 books and 56,000 pamphlets and reports. It also supervises the archives of Baltimore City.

Although the filing cabinets in his offices in Annapolis and Baltimore were bulging, lawmakers and others constantly relied on Dr. Flack's own amazing accurate recollection of the law.

In addition to his job as director of the department, Dr. Flack served as secretary and research driector of the Legislative Council for years and in 1947 became director of the newly-created Fiscal Research Bureau.

Minister Confirms Roosevelt To Rewed

LOS ANGELES, June 26 (AP)—An Episcopalian minister confirmed today Rep. James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President, will marry his secretary Sunday afternoon in the minister's home.

The Rev. George Lyon Pratt, pastor of the Church of the Advent, however, said he will not perform the ceremony uniting the Democratic congressman and Mrs. Gladys Irene Owens. It will be the third marriage for both.

Pratt, who said Roosevelt is one of his parishioners, said the ceremony will be conducted before about 20 to 25 personal friends of the couple by a pastor of another denomination. He refused to identify him.

The marriage talk came alive today after the congressman's wife, Romelle obtained her final divorce papers. Roosevelt declined comment and his Los Angeles aides referred callers direct to him.

Byrd (Va), Holland (Fla) and Long (La).

Russell led the attack on Wilson, whom he described as "inept and unequipped for this responsible position."

Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Wilson had treated Congress with an attitude "of disdain, yea, almost of contempt."

Speaking of a Cabinet member in terms seldom heard in the Senate, Russell said Wilson's "vanity and arrogance in congressional appearances has been exceeded only by his lack of understanding."

He accused Wilson of attempting to intimidate and gag career officers so they could not give the facts to Congress. There was no immediate defense of Wilson from the Republican side of the chamber.

Britain, Libya Agree

LONDON, June 26 (AP) — Britain and Libya reported tonight they reached full agreement in talks vital to Britain's embattled position in the Middle East.

Congregationalists Urge Nonsegregation Policies

OMAHA, June 26 (AP)—Congregational Christians today called for an end to racial discrimination in the housing market.

The church's General Council asked steps to "promote racial inclusiveness" in denominational colleges and other institutions.

Delegates representing 1,350,000 Christians also took these other actions:

1. Declared no federal officer "should be given power" to adjudge organizations or citizens as subversive.

2. Urged congressional committees to "safeguard the civil liberties" of witnesses, including giving them the right to face any accusers.

3. Condemned special "loyalty oaths" as a requirement for employment, residence in public housing or other citizen privileges.

4. Asked American leadership in achieving a "substantial reduction of armaments", with "safeguards against evasion of agreements."

5. Opposed "any intensification of nuclear weapon tests that would constitute a threat to world confidence in our peaceful intentions..."

6. Called for larger American programs of aid to economically depressed areas.

The council pledged its "support of nonsegregated practices in selling, buying and leasing property," and urged real estate agents to do the same.

It also asked that church support be extended to colleges, churches and other agencies that "are endeavoring to move toward racial inclusiveness."

This represented a modified version of an originally stronger resolution that would have made "racial nondiscrimination" a criteria to determine eligibility of colleges and other agencies for aid.

Congregational Christians now help support 22 colleges, some of which do not admit Negro students.

Dr. Thomas Anderson, Atlanta, Ga., urged the revised phrasing, saying it "leaves a certain latitude."

New Inquiries About Ike Plans Are Fended Off

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The White House today fended off another round of inquiries regarding President Eisenhower's second term intentions. It did so after Senate Republican Leader Knowland declared he has "no doubt" the President will stay in the race.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, continued to come up with stock replies to all questions on that matter—either "no comment" or an answer he has given scores of times since the President was hospitalized June 8:

"I have only one interest and that is to get the President of the United States out of the hospital."

Hagerty will have to dig up a new reply for newsmen this weekend after Eisenhower checks out of Walter Reed Army Hospital. Present indications are he will be discharged Friday or Saturday for a period of further convalescence at his farm home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Senate GOP Leader Knowland's assertion he has "no doubt" Eisenhower will remain in the presidential race was made at the White House this morning after he and other top congressional Republicans had conferred with White House aides regarding the legislative program.

Dulles Says Iceland Troop Cut Possible

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told senators today this country may have to cut the number of U. S. troops in Iceland and perhaps at other overseas bases in view of gains scored by Icelandic political parties which want to oust all U.S. forces.

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), who presided at a closed door meeting of Republican senators with Dulles, said the secretary "avoided saying specifically" whether it may be necessary to withraw all troops from Iceland, but "he felt the vote there was such that it may be necessary to cut down" on the number of military people stationed there.

Freak Scalding

TAMPA, Fla., June 26 (AP)—A 19-month-old girl received first degree burns when water from a garden hose which had been in the sun all day was sprayed on her by a little brother.

"It just scalded her," said Mrs. William H. Laws, mother of Jane.

Mixup In Names Halts Ceremony

ARLINGTON, Va., June 26 (AP)—Certainly heroism should be recognized, but—

Arlington County got into quite a dither about it.

Two policemen—Pvts. Ormond S. Runnels Jr., and Clarence A. Sims, were to receive plaques honoring them for the rescue of a man from a burning automobile.

All went well until almost time for the ceremony.

Then somebody read the plaques; names of two other policemen had been inscribed.

The ceremony was postponed.

Body Of Adm. King Flown To Washington

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The body of Adm. Ernest J. King, World War II chief of naval operations, arrived here by plane today.

The five-star admiral, who was 77, died at Portsmouth, N. H., yesterday. His body was brought here for full military honors and funeral services.

Tomorrow the body will be taken to Washington National Cathedral to rest in the main sanctuary until the funeral on Friday. A 24-hour honor guard will stand watch.

King will be buried in the Naval Academy cemetery at Annapolis.

Negro Leader Suggests Dixie School Boycott

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—A Negro boycott of segregated Southern schools to force compliance with the Supreme Court's nonsegregation ruling was suggested here today by a leader of the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott.

The Rev. Martin Luther King made the suggestion at a press conference in advance of the formal opening tonight of the 47th annual convention of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

Horn Blowing Cracks Baltimore's Nerves

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—The automobile horn blowers have finally cracked Baltimore's nerves.

Chief Police Inspector Fred L. Ford today told every member of the force to start enforcing strictly a law against unnecessary blowing. Violators may be fined from $1 to $100 depending on the circumstances.

And to show he wasn't fooling, he ordered district commanders to give him a weekly report on prosecutions.

Solons Charge Warren Follows Red Party Line

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren was accused today by Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) of "following the Communist party line."

While stressing they did not accuse Warren of being a Communist, Eastland and McCarthy said the chief justice takes "the same position the Communists take. . . that they are just another political party."

The Supreme Court in general and Warren in particular came in for heavy criticism during a hearing on bills to nullify a 6-3 decision June 17 which held the federal employe security program does not apply to government workers in nonsensitive jobs.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD) joined Eastland and McCarthy in denouncing the decision, contending it shot "a gaping hole" in the government's defenses against Communist infiltration. All three senators are sponsors of bills to override the court and restore the summary firing procedures of the security program to all federal workers.

Eastland presided as a one-man subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee, of which he is chairman. McCarthy and Mundt appeared in the role of witnesses.

With McCarthy on the witness said, Eastland asked if it isn't the "Communist line" that the Communst party is just another political party and isn't that "the same line the chief justice of the United States" has taken.

"Unfortunately, yes," McCarthy replied. While not accusing Warren of being a Communist "even remotely," McCarthy added, "There is something radically wrong with him."

Naval Academy Airfield Fund Cut

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee today knocked out 4 million dollars which the House had approved for the Navy to start work on a 17 million dollar airfield to serve the Naval Academy.

The cut was made as the committee recommended authorization of more than 200 military construction projects throughout the country, including nine in Maryland, costing $32,171,000.

The total cost approved by the Senate committee would be $2,106,611,000 for the year beginning July 1, or about 260 million more than is authorized in a bill passed earlier by the House.

Except for the Navy airfield cut, recommendations for Maryland projects were left unchanged from the House version.

In turning down the Navy's request to start construction of an airfield immediately near Davidsonville, the Senate committee inserted a section in the House bill which said:

"The Secretary of the Navy is authorized to obtain by contract such engineering, location and site planning studies as may be necessary to enable him to determine the feasibility and advisability of establishing continuing or locating the following facilities . . ." including the airfield.

Universe Expanding From Common Center

BERKELEY, Calif., June 26 (AP)—The universe appears to be expanding at the same rate, in all directions, from a common center.

That conclusion was expressed today by teams of astronomers who have completed a 20-year cooperative study at Mt. Wilson-Palomar, and Lick observatories in California.

They said their conclusions were based on "substantial new evidence."

The conclusions were worked out in the study of "redshifts"—the shift, toward the red part of the spectrum, of features measured in the spectrum of extra-galactic nebulae, or galaxies.

The uniform expansion of the universe had been inferred previously, the University of California report noted, from relatively few observations of redshifts.

The results of the 20-year study have been published in the Astronomical Journal by Drs. M. L. Humason and A. R. Sandage of the Mt. Wilson-Palomar observatories, and Dr. N. U. Mayall of Lick Observatory.

The studies, while indicating that the universe appears to be expanding uniformly in all directions, also suggest that the expansion is slowing down with time.

While there is uncertainty over this possible deceleration, the report continued, the study developed similar uncertainty as to estimates of the greatest distances in the universe.

"These distances," the report mentioned, "are of the order of two billion light-years, but with evidence now available, the distance scale may be off as much as 30 per cent."

A light-year is the distance light travels in a year's time, at the rate of 186,300 miles a second. It figures out to be about 6,000,000,000,000 miles.

Most stars are more than 100 light-years distant from earth.

About 335,000 people in the United States become physically handicapped through accident and disease every year.

Photographs Win Officer Acquittal

TOWSON, Md., June 26 (AP) — Pictures that a military officer took at an intersection the same day he received a traffic ticket won him an acquittal yesterday in Towson police court.

Lt. Col. Harry C. Gilbert produced pictures to show that the stop sign which a policeman accused him of running failed to exist.

"The sign was not there that day and it is not there today," he said.

A check by officials disclosed that the sign had been taken down for repairs and was not put back.

Building Identity System Approved

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — General Services Administration today came up with an answer to end what it described as the tourist's or businessman's "bewildering search for a building's name or the identity of its occupants."

It announced approval of a uniform system under which federal buildings will be identified with metal plaques or lettering placed just above eye level near the main entrance.

F. Moran McConihe, commissioner of public buildings, said the system—approved by the Fine Arts Commission—results from a suggestion by Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio).

Bolton protested last April that many persons not familiar with Washington are often lost or puzzled by the lack of identification on federal office buildings. Not only are some buildings nameless, but others are identified only by lettering up near the roof or in some other out-of-way place.

Doctors Believe Ike's Recovery Will Be Speeded At Farm Home

GETTYSBURG, Pa., June 26 (AP) —In coming here to recuperate from his recent illness, President Eisenhower will be returning home.

Home is not the White House in Washington. That's merely the business address in the nation's capital.

Home for "Ike" is the 500-acre farm—it's more like a country estate—that nestles in the rolling, quiet hills of historic Gettysburg. This is the homesite Eisenhower bought before he became President and where he intends to settle permanently after he retires from the political scene.

When Eisenhower leaves Walter Reed Army Hospital outside Washington to complete his convalescence from his abdominal operation before the end of this week, he'll come directly to his farm home.

That's where his doctors believe recovery will be speeded—in the quiet, sunny, clover-sweetened country summer air.

All the dwellings and barns on the Eisenhower farm are in tip-top condition after being repaired and painted. A little country schoolhouse, the latest acquisition, has been remodeled into a guest house and quarters erected for communication personnel at the north end of the main barn.

A helicopter landing field has been set up to the left of the main entrance. The white fence which serves as a frame for the farm has been completed around the main section and work is being pushed in the other areas. A new paddock for the horses also has been constructed.

The man in charge of the maintenance of the Eisenhower farm is Gen. Arthur S. Nevins, Ret., a personal friend and a brother officer of the President during the Allied European invasion of World War II.

The doctors feel that no medical prescription will prove more beneficial or invigorating to the President than a trip "home." Here, at his fingertips, are the simple pleasures that delight Eisenhower: a fine putting green, quail bobbing up under foot, fish breaking water as they feed, livestock growing sleek and fat, the busy noise of farm machinery, the earth bursting into bloom.

Rest, quiet, and peaceful existence the President says he yearns for upon his retirement.

D'Alesandro Says Metropolitan Area Representation In Legislature Unfair

BETHESDA, Md., June 26 (AP)—Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore, speaking to a supposedly sympathetic audience, tonight called representation of metropolitan areas in the Maryland General Assembly "unfair and undemocratic."

In the long run, he said, it is "a dangerous thing" to be what he called "under-represented."

"People only will maintain confidence in their governments when they believe thay have been given equal voice in the conduct of their governments and a fair representation."

The mayor spoke to a combined meeting of the Western Suburban Democratic and the Kensington-Wheaton Clubs of Montgomery County. He said the county as well as adjoining Prince Georges along with Baltimore City "face revenue demands which do not confront our rural counties."

He urged his listeners to be ready to press for a constitutional convention the next time the opportunity arises because it could give "The more populous areas the representation to which they are entitled."

The State Constitution provides that the people be allowed to say at least every 20 years whether a convention should be called to revamp it. The last mandatory vote was in 1950 and it was approved. But the General Assembly refused to authorize it.

The same thing happened in 1930.

Each county and six districts in Baltimore city are allowed one state senator. The number of delegates is supposed to be based on population and range from a minimum of two to a maximum of six, but the number as of 1950 was frozen.

Mayor D'Alesandro said "there are a number of politicians in our state, both in our party and in that of our opponents, who, coming from rural areas, adopt an attitude of either indifference or hostility to the problems which beset Baltimore or Montgomery County."

The mayor classified himself as a "liberal" and said "it was primarily for that reason" that he urged Millard Tydings to try a comeback against "the reprehensible and reactionary forces who unseated him in 1950."

Plan Diplomatic Ties

SAIGON, June 26 (AP) — South Viet Nam and the kingdom of Laos have agreed to establish diplomatic relations. South Viet Nam already has relations with Cambodia, the third Indochinese state.

Windows Are Out Along With School

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—School's out and so are the windows.

Charles A. Pertsch, supervisor of Baltimore school buildings, reported today that 4,592 panes of glass in 82 schools were knocked out last month.

And this isn't the stone throwing season. According to Pertsch, January usually is the heavy month.

'Show Must Go On' Slogan Halts Court

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP) — A police magistrate agreed to delay his own court today in the face of the "show must go on" slogan of the theater.

Hearings for three burlesque strippers and two of the Gayety Theater officials arrested Sunday started this morning. It became apparent the law arguments would continue until this afternoon.

Anthony DiDomenico, the defense lawyer also a State senator, pointed out to Magistrate Meyer Cardin continuation would prevent the girls from putting on a scheduled matinee performance.

The magistrate suspended the case until tomorrow morning.

The first national fund raising drive against arthritis and rheumatism was conducted in 1948.

Tydings Due To Leave Hospital This Weekend

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—Millard E. Tydings, Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate, will not be discharged from Johns Hopkins Hospital before Thursday.

And his doctors said today the former senator "probably" will be released Friday.

Tydings has been in the hospital since June 8 with an infection of the face near an eye.

It is the second time that Tydings has been bedded down with illness since he won the right to seek back his Senate seat from John Marshall Butler, the Republican.

After he won a close Democratic primary from George P. Mahoney, an abcessed tooth prevented Tydings from attending the party convention which nominated him formally May 28.

The two illnesses have prevented Tydings from personally holding a "harmony" meeting with backers of Mahoney who captured the state convention, bulk of the delegation to the national convention and the post of national committeeman.

After his discharge from the hospital, Tydings will have to remain at his home in Havre de Grace for awhile longer.

He had to cancel a scheduled talk Friday at the annual meeting of the Maryland Municipal League in Ocean City.

Martinsburg Airport Work Starts Today

MARTINSBURG, W. Va., June 26 (AP)—Expansion of the Municipal Airport, principally so the West Virginia Air National Guard may fly jet planes, will start tomorrow.

The project is expected to cost ultimately four million dollars to be supplied mostly by the Federal government.

Jennings Randolph, former West Virginia Congressman and now executive of a commercial airline, will be master of ceremonies at tomorrow's groundbreaking.

Also scheduled to attend are Lt. Col. Walter Mathers and Col. H. K. Skidmore of the Huntington District of the Army Engineers; Col. J. K. McLaughlin and Col. E. M. Sites of the state air National Guard; Congressman Harley O. Stagger; Bradley Nash, former deputy assistant secretary of the Air Force; Lt. Col. Joseph T. Crane, commanding officer of the Martinsburg unit of the state National Guard, and Armand Thieblot, president of an aircraft engineering company which has a plant at the field.

He Proves Point By Nine Tattoos

PORT HURON, Mich., June 26 (AP)—Mrs. Frances Kiernan, Port Huron police clerk, thought she was being kidded when a man arrested by border police signed his name as Charles Lester Elmer Lawrence Archer.

So she asked for some identification.

Archer stripped off his shirt and displayed nine tattoos of his name on the right arm, eight on the left arm and a large one on his chest.

He was booked for illegal entry into this country from nearby Sarnia, Ont.

Baltimore Having Crab Shell Trouble

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP)—Baltimore is having its usual summer troubles with the shell game. They come with the crabs.

And William P. Fannon, who is in charge of cleaning up, doesn't like them.

The city's sanitation chief decried today the practice of the last guest at a crab feast taking the shells and dumping them along the street on his way home.

One Killed, Six Hurt In Automobile Crash

CRISFIELD, Md., June 26 (AP)—A 20-year-old Coast Guardsman was killed and six other persons hurt in a head-on automobile collision last night.

Arthur Wesley McEowen was pronounced dead at McCready Memorial Hospital. He was from Kansas City, Mo., and stationed at Crisfield.

State police said McEowen was driving north on Route 413 a mile and a half north of Crisfield. The car swerved into the opposite lane, hit another and caromed off the road into a tree.

Two girls from Crisfield, Betty Rose Nelson, 17, and Beverly Ann Nelson, 13, in McEowen's car, suffered concussions. Paul P. Worster, 17, a third passenger, had his nose fractured.

Joe Gray, 28, John Henry Murphy, 23, and Willie Lee Harper, 22, in the other car were cut and bruised. They all are from Bayview, Va.

Part Of Court House Tower To Be Razed

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday decided that the top part of the tower on the Court House will have to be removed due to a dangerous condition which exists.

A number of slates from the top part of the tower have become loose and several were reported to have been blown across the street onto the roof of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The slates tore gashes in the church roof. Workmen are busy removing the loose slates and the walk next to the Court House and below the tower has been roped off to prevent anyone from being injured.

Several roofing contractors have informed the commissioners that if the sloping section of the tower is removed and the four stone adornments at the corners of the main tower are retained the architecture of the building will not be marred.

Specifications will be drawn for the project and bids on the work will be asked in the near future. The damage to the Court House roof so far is covered by insurance, according to the commissioners.

Four-State Horticulture Meeting Set

The annual joint meeting of fruit growers of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania will be held July 20 near Paw Paw.

The group will center around the 1,400 acres planted in apples, peaches and cherries on the farms of Harry W., Henry W. Jr. and Gilbert Miller in West Virginia and Maryland.

Officers of the horticulture society of the four participating states are making arrangements for the session, with the West Virginia Society as host.

In past seasons the affairs have drawn hundreds of observers who have an opportunity to see actual production practices and results, to ask questions and get practical answers. No formal program is undertaken other than to conduct the interested persons through orchards. No business is transacted at the sessions.

In other years growers from a distance, outside the belt, have also used the opportunity to drop in and see the demonstrations.

Advance reservations are necessary because of arranging for food and travel. Carroll R. Miller, secretary of the West Virginia Society, is in charge.

Film Will Be Shown

Ridgedale playground will have a movie at dusk today, Angela Pellerzi, director, announces.

Other activities planned include a picnic Thursday at 1 p. m. and a talent show Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Winners in the recent stuffed pet show are as follows: Joyce Miller, smallest; Pat Trozzo, largest; Mike Williams, prettiest; Tommy Painter, funniest; and John Kingston, most unusual.

An estimated six per cent of all accidents happen to the eyes.

Grand Aerie Heads Will Address Eagles Convention

Representatives of the Grand Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will address the Maryland State Aerie annual convention here Friday through Sunday.

Charles Guenther, Pittsburgh, grand treasurer; Michael T. Gaffney, Milwaukee, budget director; George Strine, York, Pa., membership department representative; and Edward Reynolds, Pittsburgh, of the membership department, will speak.

Guenther and Gaffney will represent the grand worthy president. Guenther has been treasurer since 1950, was secretary from 1943 to 1950 and is a past worthy grand president. Gaffney is a member of the board of directors of the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America, was named state organizer and auditor for New York state and eventually became director of the Eastern Eagles region.

Strine will represent the Eagles' national program and activities department. He is past president of the Pennsylvania State Aerie and former official of the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

Herman L. Myers, this city, state secretary, is general convention chairman. Waverly F. Rice, also this city, is state president.

Reception and registration will be held Thursday and a party will be held at 8 p. m. in the Eagles lounge.

Opening session of the convention will be held Friday at 10 a. m. Also on tap Friday is a tour of Cumberland Brewing Company, luncheon at the Eagles Home; movies of the 1955 grand aerie convention; and a dance in the lounge with Tommy Smithem's orchestra playing.

A business session and installation of officers will be held Sunday followed by a shrimp feed.

Drop In City Surplus Is Predicted

The City of Cumberland's fiscal year ends Saturday and prospects are that its surplus will be less than was carried over from 1954-55 into 1955-56, City Auditor Arthur B Gibson said yesterday.

The surplus carried from the previous fiscal year was $105,000. There was no indication yesterday how much below that figure the 1955-56 surplus will be.

With the possibility of less surplus, Gibson said certain economies would have to be made in order to maintain the same tax rate unless there is a great increase in the assessment base.

The current tax rate is $1.50 for each $100 of assessable property. Last August city officials found it necessary to increase taxes by 14 cents from the previous rate of $1.36.

Should the surplus be less than carried over from the last fiscal year and if the same city services are rendered it would be necessary to increase the tax rate to make up the deficit.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 26 (INS) — Dan Dailey was delighted to receive a personal call from John Ford asking him to play the other male lead with Duke Wayne in "Wings of Eagles." John remembered Dan from "What Price Glory?", the 1952 version for 20th Century-Fox.

"I was crazy to accept," Dan told me, "but before I could give an answer I had to get permission from 20th to loan me to MGM."

Producer Charles Schnee tells me it's all settled and Dan will play Commander Speed Wead's chief petty officer in the Navy. Duke, of course, plays Wead.

While Eddie Fisher is in Cedars of Lebanon undergoing tests, Debbie Reynolds is shooting her scenes in "Bundle of Joy" with Tommy Noonan, who is on loanout to RKO from 20th Century- Fox.

This is Tommy's last picture on his 20th contract. His next, he says, will be for Norman Krasna, who will follow "The Ambassador's Daughter" with "Billionaire Rooster." Can't imagine what that would be about.

Eddie's illness is a recurrence of indigestion trouble from which he has suffered from time to time.

Wearing a huge hat with almost as many roses on it as I have in my garden, Joan Crawford stopped to talk to me at Chasen's. She was having dinner with her husband, Al Steele, Fay and Mike Kanin, Mr. and Mrs. David Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tugend.

She said Al leaves tomorrow for a weekend board meeting in New York. She follows July 9, and they both go to Europe July 19, where Joan will spend three months making "The Story of Esther Costello."

"We're taking none of the children," said Joan, "but the twins will join us in mid-August after they return from camp."

It was so crowded at Chasen's Jeanne Crain, who had dinner with Bill Smith of 20th Century-Fox, ate in Dave Chasen's office. She said there has been talk of her playing Betty Compton in "Beau James" with Bob Hope and that she would like very much to do it.

I told her that another girl who is greatly interested in the same role is Patti Page. Well, Jeanne has red hair, Patti s a blonde, and Betty's hair was dark. But, of course, that can always be remedied.

Jeanne tells me she is going to work just as soon as possible. She is thinner than I've ever seen her, but pleased that so many of her friends have sent her word of their loyalty to her.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Harriette Netcher Little is in St. John's Hospital suffering with hepetitis. She'll be there two weeks and two weeks in bed at home.

At a quiet table for two at Chasen's, Ann Miller was having dinner with man - about - town Hal Hayes.

Nearby, Greer Garson was talking a new show with a TV producer. She said Buddy Fogelson is in Dallas and will join her in about a week.

Just as we entered the cafe Rosalind Russell and her son, Lance, were leaving to go to the airport to meet Freddie Brisson who has been in New York for three weeks.

John Wayne invited me to join the party that he and Pilar (wearing a most becoming green dress) were hosting, but it was my bedtime.

At La Rue, Jane Russell celebrated her birthday with Bob Waterfield and some friends. And Desi bought Lucy's dinner the same night.

Family day at the Hollywood Brown Derby. Joan Leslie with Dr. Bill Caldwell and Bill's mother in one group. Opposite them, Gordon MacRae and Sheilah and their happy brood.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Beauty On The Beach

Discreet doses of sunshine taken in the proper amount are a boon to health and beauty. The outing in the sun seems to benefit your general attitude. You seem to glow inside as well as out after a few bouts which provide the body with health - giving vitamin D. The carefree life you lead lying on the beach is a solace to one's spirit and a balm to frazzled nerves.

An overdose of sun can be very harmful. Just one hundred minutes of unprotected exposure can cause a burn that makes you look like a boiled lobster and is very painful. Repeated attacks will coarsen and age the skin. They cause skin eruptions and even serious infections which require the attention of a physician. In some cases you can permanently damage the skin.

Why risk such dangers when there are sun preparations on the market that permit up to three hours of exposure and tanning without burning. You want to benefit your skin, appearance, and health. Read the labels on a lotion bottle before buying one. Protect your skin with one of these sunscreen products and replenish it frequently while tanning.

Don't overlook the fact that your skin needs protection for the whole summer (a deep tan is no proof against a burn). A dip in the ocean or pool, sand, perspiration, and contact with clothing all wear frequent oil shampoos and a daily shine with pomade. It is wise to wear a gay scarf or some kind of head covering if you're in the sun for long hours at a time.

away your coating. While you are sunning, put on a fresh application every time you turn over or expose a different portion of your body to the sun. Put an extra amount of eye cream or oil around your eyes to help discourage wrinkles. Wear lipstick to protect your mouth. If your hair seems to be parched and hard to manage, take

Court Room Floor Work Progressing

Work on the new flooring in the court room at the Allegany County Court House is progressing.

Yesterday workmen were laying tile in the section where spectators sit during a trial. This week the green and brown carpeting will be placed in the front section of the room where the judge, jury and attorneys sit.

The work is expected to be completed the latter part of this week or early next week. A plywood base was laid on the floor since the regular floor is too uneven for the tile and carpeting.

Kiwanis Will Meet

A program of interest to all Kiwanians will be presented to the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at Central YMCA.

Everett Driver Charged In Death

BALTIMORE, June 26 (AP) — Warren Kotman Jr., 9, was killed last night when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a tractor-trailer in front of his Southwest Baltimore home.

Police charged Jack Leach, 25, of Everett, Pa., with causing the boy's death and with reckless driving.

Recent Rains Helped Md. Farmers

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 26 (AP) — Official crop reporters in Maryland found that last week's rains were like a shot in the arm to almost all of the farmers.

Field crops: Corn was good to excellent after the rains stimulated rapid growth. However, the rains have held up the harvest of barley. Planting of the soybean crop is about complete with the weather favorable for rapid growth. Tobacco plants recently transplanted to the fields in Prince Georges and Anne Arundel counties were off to a good start because of the rain. About 85 per cent of the crop in Southern Maryland has been set out.

Hay and pasture: Alfalfa was nearly ready for the second cutting in the lower portions of Southern Maryland and on the Delmarva Peninsula. The first harvest of clover mixtures was practically complete in the Southern half of Maryland and just past its peak in the north. Pastures generally benefitted by the rain.

Vegetables: The rain interfered with harvest of snap beans on the lower Peninsula, but it benefitted earlier and later plants right at the critical post bloom period. The pea harvest was being stepped up in the northern counties and the yield was running better than average. Tomatoes were beginning to set fruit on the lower Peninsula and mostly in bloom elsewhere with the crop looking good. Sweet corn was responding well to the improved moisture conditions. On the lower Eastern Shore, cucumbers were in full bloom. Earliest fields of cantaloupes were beginning to set fruit while watermelons were generally commencing to vine. The potato crop is in excellent condition.

Fruit: The apple crop in the important Smithsburg area of Washington County was sizing well and showed little insect injury, very little scab and no mites.

ginia is now in full operation. The new plant of the Doubleday Publishing Company at Berryville, Va., is progressing on schedule and should be in full operation during the second quarter of 1957. The construction of the new water supply and filtration plant for the City of Winchester is expected to be completed and in operation by August.

Construction Is High

Fort Detrick, at Frederick, is in the process of vastly enlarging its plant and substantial appropriations have already been made by the government covering this program. A construction program, including a new dormitory and science building, is in progress at Hood College, at a cost of nearly $1,000,000.

The Area Development Department, Smith reported, still continues to function efficiently and satisfactorily.

The extensive State Roads improvement program around Frederick is necessitating many changes in location of facilities.

The completion of the two power plants of the Ohio Valley Electric Corporation was announced. Both plants are on the Ohio River, one located at Kyger Creek, Ohio, and the other at Clifty Creek, Ind. These plants have an installed capacity in excess of 2,200,000 kw, being the largest project in the United States handled by private capital. They were constructed at a cost of $385,000,000. Potomac Edison is one of 15 utilities which participated in this project.

General business conditions throughout the territory have been quite satisfactory during the year thus far, with every indication that this condition will continue during the remainder of the year.

Total power output for the first half of the year will show an increase of approximately 11 per cent over last year.

The company reported a gain of 3,869 electric customers for the 12 months ending June 30, making a total for the system of 152,745 customers served.

Total electric operating revenues for the first six months (June estimated) will show an increase of 7½ per cent over the same months last year, directors were told. Expenses for the same period will show an increase of about 8 per cent. Net income for this period will show an increase of approximately 6 per cent. All of these percentages compare favorably with the budget.

Merchandise and jobbing income for this period (after taxes) will show a slight decrease under last year.

Court Room Floor Work Progressing

Work on the new flooring in the court room at the Allegany County Court House is progressing.

Yesterday workmen were laying tile in the section where spectators sit during a trial. This week the green and brown carpeting will be placed in the front section of the room where the judge, jury and attorneys sit.

The work is expected to be completed the latter part of this week or early next week. A plywood base was laid on the floor since the regular floor is too uneven for the tile and carpeting.

It's A Long Process As Old Order Changes

Isolated events provide the symbols which lead to the conclusion that the world is passing through an era of revolutionary change. That is what is happening now in North Africa.

At Port Said in Egypt a British soldier boarded a ship and sailed away, ending years of British military occupation of Egypt and the Suez Canal Zone. And while the last vestige of English colonialism was disappearing from this section of the Arab world, the leader of Algeria's warring nationalists was laying down the terms on which his Arab followers would accept peace with France.

There may be a long road from this first tentative offer to an actual settlement of the bloody struggle in Algeria. But it is significant that the Arab nationalists are now weary of warfare and ready to discuss terms which are not too dissimilar from some the French have already laid down.

Ferhat Abbasn, chairman of the Algerian National Liberation Council, has told Svante Loefgren, a Swedish newspaperman, that he is ready for immediate peace talks if the French will concede the right of the Algerians to self-government. Abbasn has also asked for a guarantee of the equal rights of all citizens and for general elections under international control.

Premier Guy Mollet of France has already declared that everyone in Algeria must be granted equality and has called for free elections. So he and Abbasn are perhaps not too far apart. The real stumbling block may be the request for international intervention. France insists that her Algerian troubles are an entirely domestic affair.

But the French are weary of fighting and bloodshed too and the signs that the old order is changing in North Africa are too plain for any one to miss. By an odd coincidence, also, the Swedish newspaperman who has been the intermediary in this case also brought the French the first clear indication that Ho Chi-minh was ready for a ceasefire in Indochina.

If his mission proves successful once again, the world will breathe a sigh of relief, even though the French are unlikely to win peace without making major and painful concessions to the Arabs.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Trend Toward Ignorance

As we approach the election of a president, how much do we really know about the business of our government? This question is not asked facetiously; it is a realistic response to the difficult problem of getting at the facts. For instance, at this moment of writing, I hear over the radio that Nasser of Egypt is considering a billion dollar loan from Soviet Russia. What are all the factors which brought about the complete failure of American policy in the Middle East?

It is possible to get at some data, particularly by reading British newspapers and noting the debate in Parliament, but the data is inadequate. Too much is hidden.

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, made this point:

"To me the most insidious and dangerous thing about this fight for freedom of information is that it goes on day after day. It accumulated to such an extent we could hardly grapple with it. I think one of the most valuable things the newspapermen of this country could do, or the committee of Congress could do, would be to try to understand why this basic right, of all basic rights, is so disregarded and permitted to slip away from us. I am inclined to think it actually might be more dangerous to vote out of ignorance than not to have the right to vote at all."

Unfortunately our people have become accustomed to voting for a glamorous personality rather than over issues. There has been no realistic debate over domestic issues or the foreign policy since the 1932 campaign, which is very far off, and if my memory serves me, the issue then was beer. The height, weight, radio voice, television appearance of candidates, and now their health, seem to be more important than their intelligence or integrity.

The fact of the matter is that the American people are not being adequately informed by their government. Things leak out and the reporters and columnists dig out items, but officially there is too much secrecy for our good, and were it not for a few congressional committees and the occasional off-the-cuff remarks at the press conferences of the President and the secretary of state which give leads to what has been suppressed, we should indeed be in an informational blackout.

One of the major difficulties is that we are in the shadow of war and officials tend to make use of that to label items as secret which cannot reasonably be regarded as secret. J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, testifying before a congressional committee, gives this example:

"An example of classification of material not really classifiable, under Executive Order 10501, in our opinion, was the Gen. Matthew Ridgway letter of June 27 (1955). This was classified as "confidential,' but in explaining the classification at his press conference, the secretary of defense said it was withheld because it might be misunderstood if published at the time of the Geneva Conference. We have not found in the definition of the 'confidential' category any mention of matter that might be 'misunderstood.' That the secretary has thought this an appropriate classification gives us some unease about the standards that the Defense establishment may be applying generally."

Here was an item suppressed for obviously political reasons. But what of the American people? Are they not entitled to know what is going on, why our taxes are so high and why the expenditures do not achieve the desired results?

We have recently witnessed the spectacle of generals and admirals and members of the cabinet appearing before a Senate committee and announcing to all the world with some detail that the Russians are beating us in the armament race. The country was as much taken by surprise as when it was discovered that the Russians had the atom bomb. What is the real explanation for our backwardness? There is no use telling our people that we have taken second place in a field in which the American genius has been foremost, the field of inventiveness and manufacture. What has gone wrong?

On this subject there should be a free debate during the forthcoming election and the facts should come out. Undoubtedly the Russians know what the facts are and perhaps will publish them in Pravda.

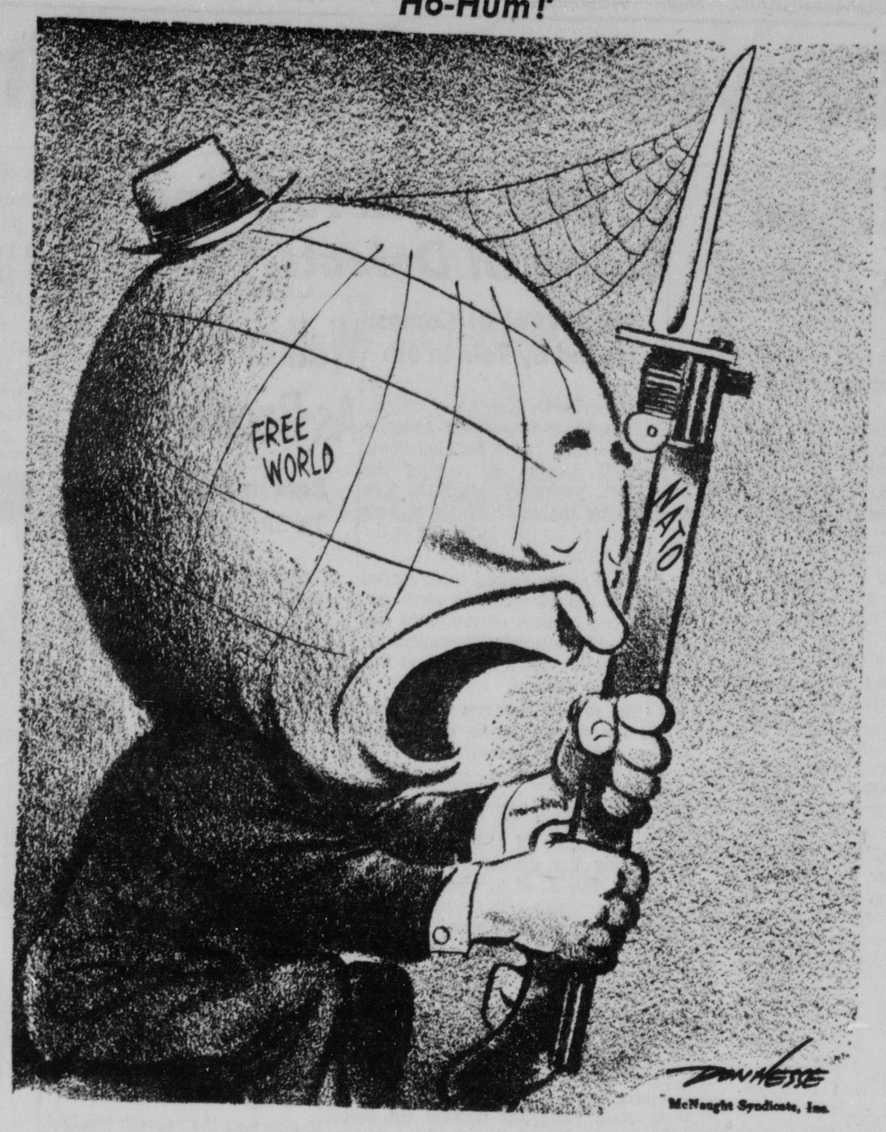
'Ho-Hum!'



Congress Exploits Defense As Political Issue

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Irresponsibility in government has rarely been more acutely emphasized than today in the behavior of Congress toward the executive in the matter of national defense.

Theoretically the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommend to the President what strategic plans they have in mind to defend the nation and what money is needed to buy weapons and military power to carry out those plans in the event of war.

The recommendations of the Joint Chiefs went to Congress early this year. If the Joint Chiefs didn't think the budget was adequate they should have said so in public and offered their resignations. But they accepted the lump sum of about $35,000,000,000. Then for reasons not always clear to the outside world members of Congress, as always, began to ferret out privately from subordinate officers and former officers various pieces of information to use in confronting the Joint Chiefs in hearings before the committees. What chief of a military force doesn't want more money? So when asked if he could use more, he usually says he can if Congress wishes to appropriate the extra funds.

Looking For Issues

Then comes the politics. Anxious to develop a political issue, the Democrats loudly proclaim that national defense has been neglected by the Republican administration. Proposals are then made to increase the appropriations. Republican senators knowing the pressures to which they may be subjected back home and not to be outdone by their political rivals promptly announce they, too, will vote for increased appropriations.

Broadly speaking it is the constitutional responsibility of Congress to provide for the national defense. But in times of complexity such as today when weapons and their use are a matter of technical argument based on confidential information of all kinds, either the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the executive must be trusted to say what is or is not adequate or else all military planning is relegated to laymen sitting as members of congressional committees.

The taxpayers of America are entitled to all the facts as to how and why Congress is pressured into spending more money than the executive has requested. Is there an invisible system of communication between some subordinate members of the military service and members of Congress and are some civilians with perhaps a material interest in it all involved in any way?

Existing System Wrong

Plainly the existing system is wrong. The British parliamentary setup requires the executive and legislative branches to take joint responsibility before the people and if the electroate loses confidence in existing regime it can at any moment turn the ruling group out of power. But in America the Democratic party as a result of the tragic mistake of the electorate in November 1954 is in control of the legislative branch while the White House is in the hands of the Republican party.

Meanwhile national defense is exploited as a political issue and neither party ventures to face up to the fundamental issue which is that if more of the taxpayer's money is really available for armament it ought to be spent for conventional arms and manpower. For it is certain today that Russia will never use atomic weapons unless attacked with these weapons and that the Western Allies today by putting all their eggs in one basket are planning only for a nuclear war. The Soviets have more than 10,000,000 soldiers under arms, a big navy of submarines and excellent defensive airpower. Yet America is ignoring the potentialities of amphibious and land warfare in a non-nuclear conflict even though, as recently as the Korean War experience, atomic weapons and intercontinental bombers were not used and land forces were dominant.

The real difficulty today is in the failure of the American governmental system to fix the responsibility for handling the problem of national defense. Congress holds the purse strings but it is also interfering in the planning. It is actually questioning the judgment of the Joint Chiefs and giving them more money than they asked for without surveying the whole problem of what is happening in Western Europe to weaken NATO and to give the Communists the edge on land warfare.

Wilson Understated Case

When Secretary of Defense Wilson, indiscreetly perhaps, said the other day that the fight over money looked to him like a "phoney" issue he was understating the case. For the illusion prevails on Capitol Hill that a certain amount of money spent for intercontinental bombers will save the situation. It's not one weapon but a combination of all kinds of forces that must be provided. The horrible facts are, moreover, that Soviet Russia — knowing that atomic weapons and hydrogen bombs will not be used by her own military forces and hence the Allied nations would not use them either — can sweep down on Western Europe and gobble up the Continent. Since there are no conventional armies there large enough to stand up against the Red armies, Western Europe is at the mercy of the Communists.

Britain, France, West Germany and the United States are putting all their bets on the "new look"—atomic warfare strategy — while the Kremlin knows that it need only to make sure nuclear war is banned and the Soviet dominates the military situation. Moscow can then intimidate France and Italy into submission without firing a shot. Neither Britain nor America are today militarily able to deter a land war in Europe. It's the 1930s all over again.

Softening Bones May Be Root Of Pain In Elderly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

When pain develops in the lower back and hips in an elderly person he is likely to blame arthritis. But distress may stem from softening of the bones (osteoporosis) of spine, pelvis, and lower extremities. It is important to make this distinction because osteoporosis can be treated satisfactorily with hormones.

This type of bone softening is mainly a geriatrics problem. Most victims are women and the process usually starts long after the sex hormone secretions begin to wane. Protein metabolism is affected and bone production is at a minimum because there are too few "protein building blocks." Next comes loss of calcium and phosphorus, the chemicals responsible for strength and rigidity of bone.

The back and lower extremities suffer most because they bear the body's weight. Discomfort appears when the parts are pulled out of alignment. The affected bone is not tender to the touch because the change that takes place in the internal structures is not a painful process. X-rays aid in making the diagnosis and help to differentiate osteoporosis from arthritis and related lesions.

There are several forms of the abnormality. Postmenopausal osteoporosis occurs immediately after the change of life. The senile variety affects the elderly. In both instances, sex hormone deficiency plays a part and, in addition, many victims eat a diet low in proteins.

Bone softening also is common in bedridden invalids. Many are oldsters recuperating from stroke, fractured hip, heart attack, or a psychiatric disorder. All the bones are likely to be involved but distress is minimal because of the inactivity.

Osteoporosis in older individuals is best treated with a combination of male and female sex hormones. Nilevar is said to be of value also. Symptoms disappear rapidly under this form of therapy. Meanwhile more proteins, calcium, and phosphorus are included in the meals. Relief of pain is obtained with the salicylates or cortisone.

The disease often can be prevented by eating properly and keeping active. When an older person is confined to bed because of illness he should be turned at periodic intervals. Encourage him to take simple breathing exercises and move the extremities as much as is practical.

TOMORROW: Aspirin: A good-bad product.

LIP PICKER

Mrs. R. C. writes: What are the dangers of picking the lips? I have done this ever since I can remember and am now 25 years old. Sometimes I pick to the point of bleeding.

REPLY

Irritation may lead to infection, unsightly scarring, or cancer. You are old enough to appreciate these hazards. Act your age by keeping your fingers away from the lips.

BENDING OVER PAIN

W. B. writes: What causes pain in the head on bending over?

REPLY

This question would be easier to answer if you had mentioned where the pain is located. It may come from sinus disease, arthritis of the neck vertebrae, tumor, or a disorder of the blood vessels.

DON'T MASSAGE

C. T. writes: Is massage good for phlebitis?

REPLY

No. If anything, massage is dangerous because it might break off a piece of the cloth in the vein.

SURGICAL FEE

R. Y. writes: I have a 2-inch scar on my face that I would like to have removed. Does the plastic surgeon charge by the inch?

REPLY

No, by the first of the month.

ASCHOFF'S NODULES

D. F. writes: How does rheumatic fever affect the heart?

REPLY

The Aschoff body is the basic lesion of rheumatic fever. These microscopic bits of inflammation are scattered throughout the muscular wall, inner lining, and valves of the heart. The valves bear the brunt because they are thin and delicate; residual scarring (leakage) results.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

TV Sets Produce X-Ray Radiation, Television Industry Acknowledges

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It wasn't mentioned in the Atomic Energy Commission's report on radiation, but common TV sets may give off harmful radiation. This has been acknowledged, but not advertised, inside the television industry.

Black-and-white picture tubes produce a "soft" X-ray radiation through the face plate. "Soft" rays are the worst kind, because they are absorbed by the body. However, they dissipate readily and are not dangerous except at close range. Experts claim that three feet is a safe distance to watch TV without risk of harmful radiation.

The larger the TV set, of course, the greater the danger. Radio Corporation of America has issued a handbook for TV repairmen, warning: "X-ray radiation is produced by the 21-inch tube when it is operated at its normal ultor value. The radiation is through the faceplate and is sufficient to require the adoption of safety measures in TV receivers. Shielding such as that provided by a ¼-inch thickness of safety glass in front of the faceplate should prove adequate to provide protection against personal injury from prolonged exposure at close range.

"When this tube is being serviced outside the TV receiver cabinet," the RCA handbook warns, "it should never be operated without requiring adequate X-ray shielding in front of the faceplate."

Large-screen projection tubes, such as used in theaters to show TV fights, can give off dangerous amounts of radiation. The audience is usually protected, however, by lead plates or other barriers.

A large dose of X-ray radiation, absorbed by the body over a long period, can produce such harmful effects as cataracts on the eyes, malignant tumors, and even leukemia. Ordinary commercial TV receivers aren't likely to cause any of these dreaded results, though they may add to the body's X-ray intake.

Main danger to the average TV viewer would come from a set in need of repair. As a precaution, children should also be kept from sitting too close to the TV set.

NOTE—At many TV plants, employes carry geiger-type meters to measure the radiation and warn them of over exposure.

"Bird-Dog" Wilson

Secretary of Defense Wilson whose ability to say the wrong thing at the wrong time is well known, attended a ceremony on Capitol Hill the other day, honoring Congressman Dewey Short, Missouri Republican.

At one point, Wilson started naming his predecessors as secretary of defense. He mentioned Secretary James Forrestal and Secretary George Marshall, then could not remember the rest.

"Oh well," he said. "They were Democrats anyhow."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, who is Mr. Democrat on Capitol Hill, and Carl Vinson, the Georgia Democrat who has considerable veto power over Wilson as chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said nothing. They didn't have to. The manner in which they looked at Wilson was enough.

Why Ike Loses GOP Votes

Loyal Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin is not the only Senate Republican being threatened with a purge because he's supporting Eisenhower's foreign aid program.

Equally loyal Senator George Bender of Ohio has been threatened with the same fate. Bender already has the GOP nomination, and unlike Wiley doesn't have to battle for the party's nomination. But Bender's fellow Republican, Senator John Bricker, is so furious with Bender for his support of the Eisenhower foreign policy that he appears about ready to give secret, perhaps even open, support to Bender's opponent Gov. Frank Lausche.

Bricker is scarcely speaking to Bender. The other day when Bender made a strong statement supporting Ike's position on restoring the cut in the foreign aid budget, newsmen sought out Jim Meckstroth, Bricker's press secretary, and asked if Bricker would comment on it.

"We don't dare tell the old man," Meckstroth confided. "He'll blow his stack and we'll be all afternoon calming him down."

Lausche, aware of the growing division in the Ohio GOP, is coyly playing along with it by getting more conservative in every speech. The governor is already so conservative he's alienated nearly all the Democratic organization support he ever enjoyed. He figures, however, that Bricker and such influential papers as the Cleveland Plain Dealer and Columbus Dispatch will swing him as many GOP votes as he got in 1952 when he mowed down Charley Taft by 571,000 votes while Ike was carrying Ohio by 496,000.

If Eisenhower wonders why he finds it so difficult to get votes from Republican senators, the retribution being threatened against Bender as well as Wiley, two of his staunchest supporters, might enlighten him.

McCarthy's Terminal Facilities

Senator Joe McCarthy isn't making headlines anymore, though he still attends Senate committee meetings and still makes speeches —of sorts.

The other day he was listening to the testimony of ex-Communist Dr. Bella Dodd before the Senate Internal Security Committee. At the close of the hearing, Acting Chairman Jenner of Indiana profusely thanked her for her testimony, then added:

"If there is nothing more, the committee will stand adjourned."

Senator McCarthy interrupted: "Mr. Chairman," he said, "could I impose on the hospitality of the chairman?"

"I want to say," he continued, "that I very greatly appreciate the opportunity of sitting in on this hearing, and I would like to make the comment that this committee is doing, I think, a greater service to America than any other committee on the Hill, either House or Senate, and I think the chief counsel, Judge Morris, should be complimented for the painstaking work he has done; and then if I may impose on you further I would like to say that I would like to compliment Dr. Dodd for the courage which she has in coming forward—she would not have to do that; she is going to subject herself to a great deal of abuse, and I think it is a wonderful thing that this committee can get the witnesses who will subject themselves to the type of abuse they are subjected to when they come forward to testify." . . . .

McCarthy droned on and on, apparently unable to stop. He couldn't seem to come to the end of a sentence.

Finally Chairman Jenner ended it for him.

"Period," he said, banged his gavel, and adjourned the meeting.

Every time I see one of those Vespa motor scooters zipping about (the epidemic has spread from Europe to the U. S.) it recalls the comeback of Enrico and Armando Piaggio. All that was left of their big plant, when the Allied air forces got through bombing it, was its reputation for having once built railway cars, trolley buses, planes and plane parts.

Some 12,000 hungry employes and their families looked to the Piaggios for help. Out of this crisis, and the need for cheap transportation over Italy's smashed roads and streets, came the Vespa, which means Wasp. They built and sold 2,500 in 1946; now make 10,000 a month. Half of Europe seems to ride this way. The town of Pontedera has gained 24 American-style low-rent housing units, schools, kindergardens, hospitals, playgrounds. There are now 150,000 on the company payroll. The Piaggios found an answer to communism in Italy by fashioning a handy 1-cylinder transportation tool that gets a hundred miles on a gallon.

It's A Long Process As Old Order Changes

Isolated events provide the symbols which lead to the conclusion that the world is passing through an era of revolutionary change. That is what is happening now in North Africa.

At Port Said in Egypt a British soldier boarded a ship and sailed away, ending years of British military occupation of Egypt and the Suez Canal Zone. And while the last vestige of English colonialism was disappearing from this section of the Arab world, the leader of Algeria's warring nationalists was laying down the terms on which his Arab followers would accept peace with France.

There may be a long road from this first tentative offer to an actual settlement of the bloody struggle in Algeria. But it is significant that the Arab nationalists are now weary of warfare and ready to discuss terms which are not too dissimilar from some the French have already laid down.

Ferhat Abbasn, chairman of the Algerian National Liberation Council, has told Svante Loefgren, a Swedish newspaperman, that he is ready for immediate peace talks if the French will concede the right of the Algerians to self-government. Abbasn has also asked for a guarantee of the equal rights of all citizens and for general elections under international control.

Premier Guy Mollet of France has already declared that everyone in Algeria must be granted equality and has called for free elections. So he and Abbasn are perhaps not too far apart. The real stumbling block may be the request for international intervention. France insists that her Algerian troubles are an entirely domestic affair.

But the French are weary of fighting and bloodshed too and the signs that the old order is changing in North Africa are too plain for any one to miss. By an odd coincidence, also, the Swedish newspaperman who has been the intermediary in this case also brought the French the first clear indication that Ho Chi-minh was ready for a cease-fire in Indochina.

If his mission proves successful once again, the world will breathe a sigh of relief, even though the French are unlikely to win peace without making major and painful concessions to the Arabs.

These Days

Trend Toward Ignorance

As we approach the election of a president, how much do we really know about the business of our government? This question is not asked facetiously; it is a realistic response to the difficult problem of getting at the facts. For instance, at this moment of writing, I hear over the radio that Nasser of Egypt is considering a billion dollar loan from Soviet Russia. What are all the factors which brought about the complete failure of American policy in the Middle East?

It is possible to get at some data, particularly by reading British newspapers and noting the debate in Parliament, but the data is inadequate. Too much is hidden.

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, made this point:

"To me the most insidious and dangerous thing about this fight for freedom of information is that it goes on day after day. It accumulated to such an extent we could hardly grapple with it. I think one of the most valuable things the newspapermen of this country could do, or the committee of Congress could do, would be to try to understand why this basic right, of all basic rights, is so disregarded and permitted to slip away from us. I am inclined to think it actually might be more dangerous to vote out of ignorance than not to have the right to vote at all."

Unfortunately our people have become accustomed to voting for a glamorous personality rather than over issues. There has been no realistic debate over domestic issues or the foreign policy since the 1932 campaign, which is very far off, and if my memory serves me, the issue then was beer. The height, weight, radio voice, television appearance of candidates, and now their health, seem to be more important than their intelligence or integrity.

The fact of the matter is that the American people are not being adequately informed by their government. Things leak out and the reporters and columnists dig out items, but officially there is too much secrecy for our good, and were it not for a few congressional committees and the occasional off-the-cuff remarks at the press conferences of the President and the secretary of state which give leads to what has been suppressed, we should indeed be in an informational blackout.

One of the major difficulties is that we are in the shadow of war and officials tend to make use of that to label items as secret which cannot reasonably be regarded as secret. J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, testifying before a congressional committee, gives this example:

"An example of classification of material not really classifiable, under Executive Order 10501, in our opinion, was the Gen. Matthew Ridgway letter of June 27 (1955). This was classified as "confidential,' but in explaining the classification at his press conference, the secretary of defense said it was withheld because it might be misunderstood if published at the time of the Geneva Conference. We have not found in the definition of the 'confidential' category any mention of matter that might be 'misunderstood.' That the secretary has thought this an appropriate classification gives us some unease about the standards that the Defense establishment may be applying generally."

Here was an item suppressed for obviously political reasons. But what of the American people? Are they not entitled to know what is going on, why our taxes are so high and why the expenditures do not achieve the desired results?

We have recently witnessed the spectacle of generals and admirals and members of the cabinet appearing before a Senate committee and announcing to all the world with some detail that the Russians are beating us in the armament race. The country was as much taken by surprise as when it was discovered that the Russians had the atom bomb. What is the real explanation for our backwardness? There is no use telling our people that we have taken second place in a field in which the American genius has been foremost, the field of inventiveness and manufacture. What has gone wrong?

On this subject there should be a free debate during the forthcoming election and the facts should come out. Undoubtedly the Russians know what the facts are and perhaps will publish them in Pravda.

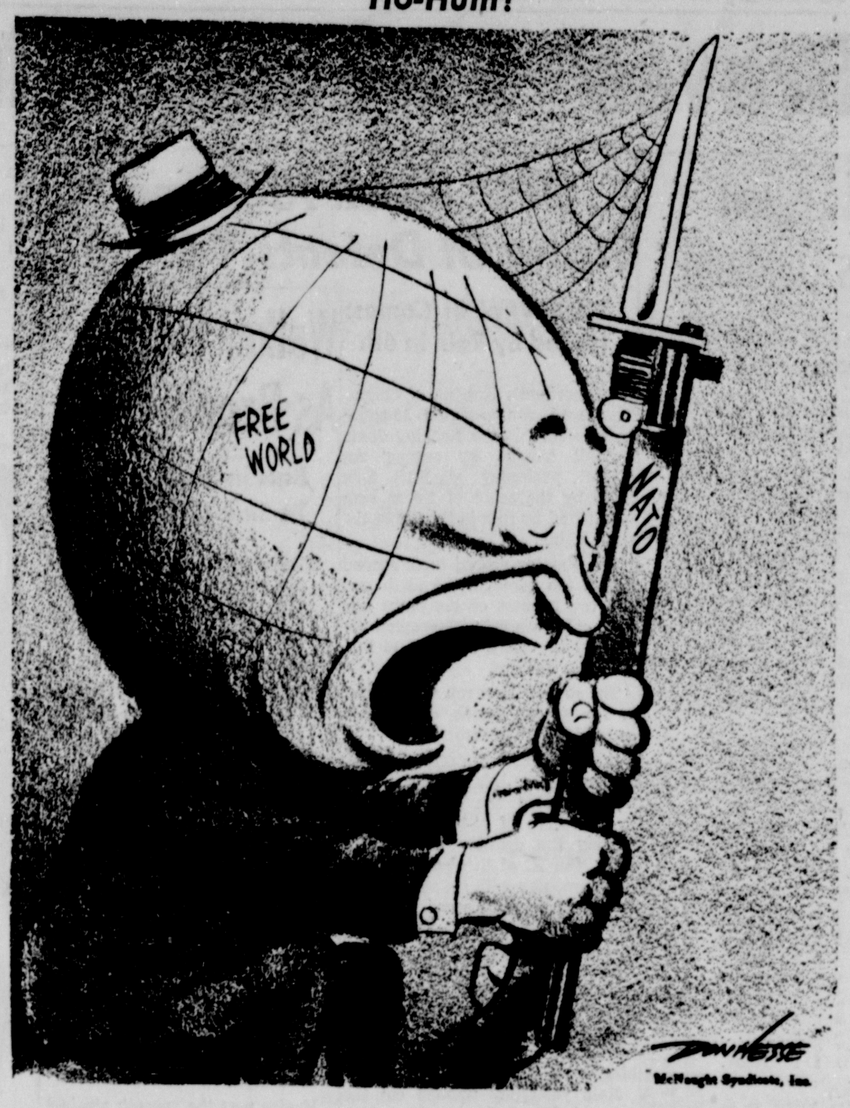
'Ho-Hum!'



Congress Exploits Defense As Political Issue

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Irresponsibility in government has rarely been more acutely emphasized than today in the behavior of Congress toward the executive in the matter of national defense.

Theoretically the Joint Chiefs of Staff recommend to the President what strategic plans they have in mind to defend the nation and what money is needed to buy weapons and military power to carry out those plans in the event of war.

The recommendations of the Joint Chiefs went to Congress early this year. If the Joint Chiefs didn't think the budget was adequate they should have said so in public and offered their resignations. But they accepted the lump sum of about $35,000,000,000. Then for reasons not always clear to the outside world members of Congress, as always, began to ferret out privately from subordinate officers and former officers various pieces of information to use in confronting the Joint Chiefs in hearings before the committees. What chief of a military force doesn't want more money? So when asked if he could use more, he usually says he can if Congress wishes to appropriate the extra funds.

Looking For Issues

Then comes the politics. Anxious to develop a political issue, the Democrats loudly proclaim that national defense has been neglected by the Republican administration. Proposals are then made to increase the appropriations. Republican senators knowing the pressures to which they may be subjected back home and not to be outdone by their political rivals promptly announce they, too, will vote for increased appropriations.

Broadly speaking it is the constitutional responsibility of Congress to provide for the national defense. But in times of complexity such as today when weapons and their use are a matter of technical argument based on confidential information of all kinds, either the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the executive must be trusted to say what is or is not adequate or else all military planning is relegated to laymen sitting as members of congressional committees.

The taxpayers of America are entitled to all the facts as to how and why Congress is pressured into spending more money than the executive has requested. Is there an invisible system of communication between some subordinate members of the military service and members of Congress and are some civilians with perhaps a material interest in it all involved in any way?

Existing System Wrong

Plainly the existing system is wrong. The British parliamentary setup requires the executive and legislative branches to take joint responsibility before the people and if the electroate loses confidence in existing regime it can at any moment turn the ruling group out of power. But in America the Democratic party as a result of the tragic mistake of the electorate in November 1954 is in control of the legislative branch while the White House is in the hands of the Republican party.

Meanwhile national defense is exploited as a political issue and neither party ventures to face up to the fundamental issue which is that if more of the taxpayer's money is really available for armament it ought to be spent for conventional arms and manpower. For it is certain today that Russia will never use atomic weapons unless attacked with these weapons and that the Western Allies today by putting all their eggs in one basket are planning only for a nuclear war. The Soviets have more than 10,000,000 soldiers under arms, a big navy of submarines and excellent defensive airpower. Yet America is ignoring the potentialities of amphibious and land warfare in a non-nuclear conflict even though, as recently as the Korean War experience, atomic weapons and intercontinental bombers were not used and land forces were dominant.

The real difficulty today is in the failure of the American governmental system to fix the responsibility for handling the problem of national defense. Congress holds the purse strings but it is also interfering in the planning. It is actually questioning the judgment of the Joint Chiefs and giving them more money than they asked for without surveying the whole problem of what is happening in Western Europe to weaken NATO and to give the Communists the edge on land warfare.

Wilson Understated Case

When Secretary of Defense Wilson, indiscreetly perhaps, said the other day that the fight over money looked to him like a "phoney" issue he was understating the case. For the illusion prevails on Capitol Hill that a certain amount of money spent for intercontinental bombers will save the situation. It's not one weapon but a combination of all kinds of forces that must be provided. The horrible facts are, moreover, that Soviet Russia — knowing that atomic weapons and hydrogen bombs will not be used by her own military forces and hence the Allied nations would not use them either — can sweep down on Western Europe and gobble up the Continent. Since there are no conventional armies there large enough to stand up against the Red armies, Western Europe is at the mercy of the Communists.

Britain, France, West Germany and the United States are putting all their bets on the "new look"—atomic warfare strategy — while the Kremlin knows that it need only to make sure nuclear war is banned and the Soviet dominates the military situation. Moscow can then intimidate France and Italy into submission without firing a shot. Neither Britain nor America are today militarily able to deter a land war in Europe. It's the 1930s all over again.

"If there is nothing more, the committee will stand adjourned."

Senator McCarthy interrupted: "Mr. Chairman," he said, "could I impose on the hospitality of the chairman?"

"I want to say," he continued, "that I very greatly appreciate the opportunity of sitting in on this hearing, and I would like to make the comment that this committee is doing, I think, a greater service to America than any other committee on the Hill, either House or Senate, and I think the chief counsel, Judge Morris, should be complimented for the painstaking work he has done; and then if I may impose on you further I would like to say that I would like to compliment Dr. Dodd for the courage which she has in coming forward—she would not have to do that; she is going to subject herself to a great deal of abuse, and I think it is a wonderful thing that this committee can get the witnesses who will subject themselves to the type of abuse they are subjected to when they come forward to testify." . . . .

McCarthy droned on and on, apparently unable to stop. He couldn't seem to come to the end of a sentence.

Finally Chairman Jenner ended it for him.

"Period," he said, banged his gavel, and adjourned the meeting.

Softening Bones May Be Root Of Pain In Elderly

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

When pain develops in the lower back and hips in an elderly person he is likely to blame arthritis. But distress may stem from softening of the bones (osteoporosis) of spine, pelvis, and lower extremities. It is important to make this distinction because osteoporosis can be treated satisfactorily with hormones.

This type of bone softening is mainly a geriatrics problem. Most victims are women and the process usually starts long after the sex hormone secretions begin to wane. Protein metabolism is affected and bone production is at a minimum because there are too few "protein building blocks." Next comes loss of calcium and phosphorus, the chemicals responsible for strength and rigidity of bone.

The back and lower extremities suffer most because they bear the body's weight. Discomfort appears when the parts are pulled out of alignment. The affected bone is not tender to the touch because the change that takes place in the internal structures is not a painful process. X-rays aid in making the diagnosis and help to differentiate osteoporosis from arthritis and related lesions.

There are several forms of the abnormality. Postmenopausal osteoporosis occurs immediately after the change of life. The senile variety affects the elderly. In both instances, sex hormone deficiency plays a part and, in addition, many victims eat a diet low in proteins.

Bone softening also is common in bedridden invalids. Many are oldsters recuperating from stroke, fractured hip, heart attack, or a psychiatric disorder. All the bones are likely to be involved but distress is minimal because of the inactivity.

Osteoporosis in older individuals is best treated with a combination of male and female sex hormones. Nilevar is said to be of value also. Symptoms disappear rapidly under this form of therapy. Meanwhile more proteins, calcium, and phosphorus are included in the meals. Relief of pain is obtained with the salicylates or cortisone.

The disease often can be prevented by eating properly and keeping active. When an older person is confined to bed because of illness he should be turned at periodic intervals. Encourage him to take simple breathing exercises and move the extremities as much as is practical.

LIP PICKER

Mrs. R. C. writes: What are the dangers of picking the lips? I have done this ever since I can remember and am now 25 years old. Sometimes I pick to the point of bleeding.

REPLY

Irritation may lead to infection, unsightly scarring, or cancer. You are old enough to appreciate these hazards. Act your age by keeping your fingers away from the lips.

BENDING OVER PAIN

W. B. writes: What causes pain in the head on bending over?

REPLY

This question would be easier to answer if you had mentioned where the pain is located. It may come from sinus disease, arthritis of the neck vertebrae, tumor, or a disorder of the blood vessels.

DON'T MASSAGE

C. T. writes: Is massage good for phlebitis?

REPLY

No. If anything, massage is dangerous because it might break off a piece of the cloth in the vein.

SURGICAL FEE

R. Y. writes: I have a 2-inch scar on my face that I would like to have removed. Does the plastic surgeon charge by the inch?

REPLY

No, by the first of the month.

ASCHOFF'S NODULES

D. F. writes: How does rheumatic fever affect the heart?

REPLY

The Aschoff body is the basic lesion of rheumatic fever. These microscopic bits of inflammation are scattered throughout the muscular wall, inner lining, and valves of the heart. The valves bear the brunt because they are thin and delicate; residual scarring (leakage) results.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellan will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

The parson, detained from his dearly loved weekly fishing expedition by a young couple who insisted upon being hitched immediately, regarded the bridegroom sourly and inquired, "Do you promise to love, honor, and cherish this woman?" Some 12,000 hungry employes and their families looked to the Piaggios for help. Out of this crisis, and the need for cheap transportation over Italy's smashed roads and streets, came the Vespa, which means Wasp. They built and sold 2,500 in 1946; now make 10,000 a month. Half of Europe seems to ride this way. The town of Pontedera has gained 24 American-style low-rent housing units, schools, kindergardens, hospitals, playgrounds. There are now 150,000 on the company payroll. The Piaggios found an answer to communism in Italy by fashioning a handy 1-cylinder transportation tool that gets a hundred miles on a gallon.

Robin Roberts Cracks Braves' 11-Game Win Streak, 4-2

Haney Shakes Hand Of Phils' Pitching Ace

Roberts Retires 17 In Row; Milwaukee Held To Five Hits

PHILADELPHIA, June 26 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies ended the league - leading Milwaukee Braves' 11-game winning streak 4-2 tonight with a two-run eighth inning rally and five-hit pitching by Robin Roberts.

It was the first defeat for Fred Haney, who took over from Charlie Grimm on June 16. Haney strode to the mound at the end of the game to shake Roberts' hand.

Stan Lopata and Del Ennis scored in the eighth to break the tie and overcome a Braves two-run rally in the seventh. Lopata scored and Ennis went to third on a wild throw from leftfielder Bobby Thomson. Elmer Valo's single scored Ennis.

The Braves came from behind in the seventh, after Roberts had retired 17 batters in a row, to make it 2-2. Hank Aaron doubled, scoring Bill Bruton from third, and Adcock came home on a pinch-bunt by Frank Torre.

Roberts held Milwaukee hitless for five innings with a one-hitter in the works, while his teammates squeezed out a 2-0 lead with a run in the fourth and another in the sixth.

Lopata scored in the sixth after lining a double. Ennis banged out his second single and took second on the throw to the plate while Lopata held third. Valo was intentionally walked and forced out on a single by Jones as Lopata came home.

Until Milwaukee's two-run seventh, Roberts had allowed only one hit, in the first inning, by Billy Bruton.

Cleveland Cops Seventh In Row

Beats Zuverink Of Orioles, 4-3

CLEVELAND, June 26 (AP) — Consecutive doubles by Bob Avila and Gene Woodling in the seventh inning gave the Cleveland Indians their seventh straight victory tonight, a 4-3 decision over the Baltimore Orioles. It is the Tribe's longest winning streak since 1954.

The doubles broke a 3-3 tie and gave Early Wynn his eighth victory in 12 decisions.

The loss went to George Zuverink, who relieved starter Connie Johnson in the sixth inning to stop a three-run Cleveland rally that tied the game.

Wynn held the Orioles to five hits, and gave up single runs in the second, third and sixth innings.

For five innings, Johnson shut out the Indians on three hits and didn't let a runner past first. But the Indians drove him from the mound in the sixth with three hits and two walks.

Mrs. Glick Cops 8th • • • The Golfer To Beat

Clingan Is Injured • • • Pat King Passes On

By C. V. BURNS

ON PRESENT FORM, Mrs. Maurice Glick, of the Woodholme Country Club, Baltimore, looms as the "player to beat" when the sixth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association gets under way tomorrow morning at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Glick won the Baltimore city title for the eighth time the past weekend by defeating Mrs. C. M. Nes, of the Hillendale Country Club, 5 and 4, after eliminating Mrs. Claude Richards, the Westminster poultry raiser and trapshooter in the semi-final round.

Mrs. Glick first won the Baltimore championship in 1946.

Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, three times winner here, now competing in England and missing from the local tourney for the first time in four years, has won two Baltimore city titles.

Last year Miss Downey defeated Mrs. Glick in a sudden death playoff for the Old Export Bowl here after both golfers had finished the 36 holes with identical scores of 158. The local event became a 36-hole test for the first time in 1955.

The largest turnout of players for the CCC tourney was in 1953 when 145 participated. There were 94 in 1951, one hundred in 1952, ninety-six in 1954 and ninety-two last year. The entry list now is limited to players with handicaps of 25 and under.

Leaders in the past five invitation tournaments were as follows:

1. Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, and Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, tied at 158 for 36 holes. Miss Downey won in sudden death playoff.
3. Mary Ann Musser, Ellicott City, 163.
4. Mrs. Iva Noble, Washington, D. C., 166.
5. Mrs. J. W. Y. Martin, Baltimore, 169.
6. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 170.

1. Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, 79.
2. Jane Nelson, Indianapolis, 80.
3. Mrs. Charles Egenrode, Alexandria, Va., 83.
4. Mrs. Claude Richards, Westminster, Md., 84.

1. Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, 75.
2. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 78.
3. Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, 80.
4. Mrs. Claude Richards, Westminster, Md., 80.

1. Mrs. Nancy Bycott, Wheeling, 80.
2. Mrs. John McCuskey, Clarksburg, W. Va., 83.
3. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 84.

1. Mrs. John McCuskey, Clarksburg, 79.
2. Mrs. Jeannette Myers, Baltimore, 80.
3. Mrs. Helena Harner, Hagerstown, 81.
4. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 82.

JIM CLINGAN, Cumberland's contribution to minor league baseball, is now on the shelf for an indefinite period.

The pitching ace of the Columbus, Ga., (South Atlantic League) team suffered a shoulder injury last week in a collision at second base.

THE DEATH of Patrick F. King last week marked the passing of one of Cumberland's most colorful and popular sandlot baseball leaders of a quarter of a century ago.

King, who was employed at the B. & O. Shops for many years, headed the Y.M.I. (Young Men's Institute) team in the City League which played twilight ball in the early 1920s. The B. & O. YMCA, Liberty Athletic Club, North Cumberland Pirates and Western Maryland Railway also were represented in this fast circuit which staged its games at South End Park and the Rolling Mill diamond.

Other managers were Frank Birmingham, Paul K. Collins and Frank (Cadillac) Molinari.

Among the players we recall were DeSales King, Raymond Beck, Earl Forbeck, Bob Fields, Edgar "Turk" Fields, Joe and Mart Buskey, "Red" Robertson, Francis "Hottie" Spearman, Frank "Yellowhorse" Harsh, Jimmy Spearman, Charley Duckworth, Ray "Doggie" Baker, Paul Stegmaier, Jimmy and Chris Rowan, Jimmy Drenning, Emmett Flynn, "Simmy" Ridgeley.

Nate Dreyer, Henry Stitcher, Allan Underdonk, Lefty Bell, "Buddy" Preaskorn, Earl Randalls, Arlie Driscoll, Walter Drumm, Charles "Lefty" Jordan, Harry Wolford, Carl Weaver, Walter "Dolly" Bittner, Lee Ginniman, Joe Zapf, Walter Speicher, Robert "Red" Hanley, Leo Zitzman, Lefty Fike, "Big Ed" Welsh, Bobby Blair, Othie Dyer, Baron Sampsell, Johnny Horchler, etc.

EVERY TIME we see Mickey Mantle mentioned as trying to better Babe Ruth's home run record it brings to our memory the time the Babe hit one over the centerfield fence at Mid City Park on Wineow Street. The ball landed on the railroad tracks back of Footer's Dye Works.

It was during batting practice before an exhibtion game between the Colts and New York Yankees that the Bambino teed off.

Ruth was the only player ever to belt one over that barrier.

More than 99 per cent of the air at sea level is composed of oxygen and nitrogen.

FAVORITE — Mrs. Maurice Glick, above, won the Baltimore city golf championship for the eighth time the past weekend and looms as the "player to beat" in the sixth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association which opens tomorrow at the Cumberland Country Club. Mrs. Glick tied Mary Ann Downey at 158 for 36 holes last year in the local event but lost out in a sudden death playoff. In 1953 she finished third in the CCC tourney.

Cops 3d Straight In League, 5-1

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 scored its third straight victory in the Mountain District, American Legion Junior Baseball League, by turning back Oakland in a game halted by rain in the top of the sixth inning yesterday at Fort Hill Field. The score was 5-1.

Charley Imes started on the hillock for the league leaders but weakened in the fourth when he issued two walks and hit a batter and yielded a run. Jesse Markley replaced him, fanned the side, and finished the game. DeWitt was the loser.

The locals collected ten hits, Imes leading the attack with a double and triple while Bruce and Valentine collected two singles each. Oakland's lone hit was a two-bagger by Hinkle in the second inning. Box:

Giants Blank St. Louis, 3-0

Gomez Dumps Cards Into Fifth Place

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Ruben Gomez, who had lost four straight since May 25, shut out the St. Louis Cardinals on three hits—two by former mates Al Dark and Whitey Lockman — as the New York Giants dumped the Redbirds into fifth place in the National League race tonight 3-0.

The Giants, who also had lost four in a row, got a pair of runs in the first inning as Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell walked the first three men he faced, and got another one home in the sixth on a double by Willie Mays and Don Mueller's pinch single.

Bill Sarni, one of the ex-Cards involved in the recent deal that sent Dark and Lockman from the Giants to St. Louis, singled in the second New York run. It came after Larry Jackson relieved Mizell, now 7-5 with three straight defeats, and had gotten Bobby Hofman to hit into a run-scoring doubleplay.

Gomez, now 3-7, walked only one and fanned five—including pinch-hitter Rip Repulski and Stan Musial in the ninth.

K. Of C. Break 18-Game String Of Defeats, 1-0

Edge VFW In Contest Halted By Rain In 6th

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus broke a two-season 18-game losing streak in the Rocking Chair Softball League by edging the V.F.W. yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 1-0 in contest halted by rain in the top of the sixth inning.

The Knights scored their second run of the game in the sixth and had two runners on the paths and none out when rain interrupted the tilt and the score reverted to five complete innings.

The game's lone run was scored in the second frame on a walk coupled with two errors.

It was the first win scored by the Knights since July 21, 1955 when they defeated the Outdoor Club by the score of 21-16 with Loibel gaining the decision over Troutman. The K. of C. closed out the 1955 campaign with six straight defeats and a 1-21 record and had lost their first 12 games of the current campaign.

Kenneth Gray, who had lost his two previous starts for the league cellarites, held the Vets to three hits in yesterday's abbreviated tilt while the Knights obtained two bingles off Klavuhn.

Rain yesterday washed out the game between the Outdoor Club and Loyal Order of Moose with the latter leading 7-6 in the top of the fourth inning with the Moose at bat, one out and a runner on third base. The game must be replayed in its entirety.

The K. of C. will play the B.P.O. Elks Thursday at 6:15 p. m., at Campobello. This game will replace the Elks-Celanese game which will be played at a later date. Yesterday's score:

Walker Is Hero As Brooks Win

Bats In Six Runs To Sink Cubs, 10-5

BROOKLYN, June 26 (AP) — Al (Rube) Walker, Brooklyn's seldom seen second string catcher, drove in six runs with a home run, triple and double tonight as the Dodgers belted the Chicago Cubs 10-5 on 11 hits that also included a pair of home runs by Jackie Robinson.

Roy Campanella, the Dodgers' ace backstop, was on the bench with a swollen thumb for this one and the 30-year-old Walker, making only his 12th appearance behind the plate this season made the most of it.

With Walker leading the way, veteran Sal Maglie became the first Brooklyn pitcher to go the distance in the last 19 games, winning his second in three decisions on an eight-hitter that included home runs by Gene Baker and Walt Moryn.

It also was the seventh straight victory over the Cubs for Maglie, one-time New York Giant ace. The 39-year-old righthander hasn't lost to Chicago since Aug. 4, 1953, and he now is 12-2 lifetime against the Cubs.

The victory kept the Dodgers in third place in the National League race, 2½ games behind first-place Milwaukee.

Games Are Stopped By Jupiter Pluvius

Rain washed out a majority of baseball and softball games scheduled in the area yesterday.

The opening game of the series between the Eagles and Hygienic Sanitation ended in the 4th inning with the Eagles leading, 4-2. Jim Gaffney and George Harris were the pitchers.

In the Pen-Mar League, LaVale and Ellerslie were tied at 3-3 in the 6th when the rains came and the Barrelville at Cresaptown game was stopped in the second with the teams in a scoreless tie.

Burkey's led Stringtown 8-1 after 2½ innings when their County League game was rained out. The Potomac Valley Old Germans and Corriganville game was also a victim of Jupiter Pluvius.

Rain stopped the Mineral County League game at Westernport between the Tri-Towns Merchants and McCoole Vets and the tilt has been rescheduled for Wednesday.

The Pleiades are a cluster of seven small stars just at the bend in the "handle" of the Big Dipper.

Robin Roberts Cracks Braves' 11-Game Win Streak, 4-2

Roberts Retires 17 In Row; Milwaukee Held To Five Hits

PHILADELPHIA, June 26 (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies ended the league - leading Milwaukee Braves' 11-game winning streak 4-2 tonight with a two-run eighth inning rally and five-hit pitching by Robin Roberts.

It was the first defeat for Fred Haney, who took over from Charlie Grimm on June 16. Haney strode to the mound at the end of the game to shake Roberts' hand.

Stan Lopata and Del Ennis scored in the eighth to break the tie and overcome a Braves two-run rally in the seventh. Lopata scored and Ennis went to third on a wild throw from leftfielder Bobby Thomson. Elmer Valo's single scored Ennis.

The Braves came from behind in the seventh, after Roberts had retired 17 batters in a row, to make it 2-2. Hank Aaron doubled, scoring Bill Bruton from third, and Adcock came home on a pinch-bunt by Frank Torre.

Roberts held Milwaukee hitless for five innings with a one-hitter in the works, while his teammates squeezed out a 2-0 lead with a run in the fourth and another in the sixth.

Lopata scored in the sixth after lining a double. Ennis banged out his second single and took second on the throw to the plate while Lopata held third. Valo was intentionally walked and forced out on a single by Jones as Lopata came home.

Until Milwaukee's two-run seventh, Roberts had allowed only one hit, in the first inning, by Billy Bruton.

Cleveland Cops Seventh In Row

Beats Zuverink Of Orioles, 4-3

CLEVELAND, June 26 (AP) — Consecutive doubles by Bob Avila and Gene Woodling in the seventh inning gave the Cleveland Indians their seventh straight victory tonight, a 4-3 decision over the Baltimore Orioles. It is the Tribe's longest winning streak since 1954.

The doubles broke a 3-3 tie and gave Early Wynn his eighth victory in 12 decisions.

The loss went to George Zuverink, who relieved starter Connie Johnson in the sixth inning to stop a three-run Cleveland rally that tied the game.

Wynn held the Orioles to five hits, and gave up single runs in the second, third and sixth innings.

For five innings, Johnson shut out the Indians on three hits and didn't let a runner past first. But the Indians drove him from the mound in the sixth with three hits and two walks.

Mrs. Glick Cops 8th • • • The Golfer To Beat

Clingan Is Injured • • • Pat King Passes On

By C. V. BURNS

ON PRESENT FORM, Mrs. Maurice Glick, of the Woodholme Country Club, Baltimore, looms as the "player to beat" when the sixth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association gets under way tomorrow morning at the Cumberland Country Club.

Mrs. Glick won the Baltimore city title for the eighth time the past weekend by defeating Mrs. C. M. Nes, of the Hillendale Country Club, 5 and 4, after eliminating Mrs. Claude Richards, the Westminster poultry raiser and trapshooter in the semi-final round.

Mrs. Glick first won the Baltimore championship in 1946.

Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, three times winner here, now competing in England and missing from the local tourney for the first time in four years, has won two Baltimore city titles.

Last year Miss Downey defeated Mrs. Glick in a sudden death playoff for the Old Export Bowl here after both golfers had finished the 36 holes with identical scores of 158. The local event became a 36-hole test for the first time in 1955.

The largest turnout of players for the CCC tourney was in 1953 when 145 participated. There were 94 in 1951, one hundred in 1952, ninety-six in 1954 and ninety-two last year. The entry list now is limited to players with handicaps of 25 and under.

Leaders in the past five invitation tournaments were as follows:

1. Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, and Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, tied at 158 for 36 holes. Miss Downey won in sudden death playoff.
3. Mary Ann Musser, Ellicott City, 163.
4. Mrs. Iva Noble, Washington, D. C., 166.
5. Mrs. J. W. Y. Martin, Baltimore, 169.
6. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 170.

1. Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, 79.
2. Jane Nelson, Indianapolis, 80.
3. Mrs. Charles Egenrode, Alexandria, Va., 83.
4. Mrs. Claude Richards, Westminster, Md., 84.

1. Mary Ann Downey, Baltimore, 75.
2. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 78.
3. Mrs. Maurice Glick, Baltimore, 80.
4. Mrs. Claude Richards, Westminster, Md., 80.

1. Mrs. Nancy Bycott, Wheeling, 80.
2. Mrs. John McCuskey, Clarksburg, W. Va., 83.
3. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 84.

1. Mrs. John McCuskey, Clarksburg, 79.
2. Mrs. Jeannette Myers, Baltimore, 80.
3. Mrs. Helena Harner, Hagerstown, 81.
4. Mrs. G. William Bibby, Cumberland, 82.

JIM CLINGAN, Cumberland's contribution to minor league baseball, is now on the shelf for an indefinite period.

The pitching ace of the Columbus, Ga., (South Atlantic League) team suffered a shoulder injury last week in a collision at second base.

THE DEATH of Patrick F. King last week marked the passing of one of Cumberland's most colorful and popular sandlot baseball leaders of a quarter of a century ago.

King, who was employed at the B. & O. Shops for many years, headed the Y.M.I. (Young Men's Institute) team in the City League which played twilight ball in the early 1920s. The B. & O. YMCA, Liberty Athletic Club, North Cumberland Pirates and Western Maryland Railway also were represented in this fast circuit which staged its games at South End Park and the Rolling Mill diamond.

Other managers were Frank Birmingham, Paul K. Collins and Frank (Cadillac) Molinari.

Nate Dreyer, Henry Stitcher, Allan Underdonk, Lefty Bell, "Buddy" Preaskorn, Earl Randalls, Arlie Driscoll, Walter Drumm, Charles "Lefty" Jordan, Harry Wolford, Carl Weaver, Walter "Dolly" Bittner, Lee Ginniman, Joe Zapf, Walter Speicher, Robert "Red" Hanley, Leo Zitzman, Lefty Fike, "Big Ed" Welsh, Bobby Blair, Othie Dyer, Baron Sampsell, Johnny Horchler, etc.

EVERY TIME we see Mickey Mantle mentioned as trying to better Babe Ruth's home run record it brings to our memory the time the Babe hit one over the centerfield fence at Mid City Park on Wineow Street. The ball landed on the railroad tracks back of Footer's Dye Works.

It was during batting practice before an exhibtion game between the Colts and New York Yankees that the Bambino teed off.

Ruth was the only player ever to belt one over that barrier.

FAVORITE — Mrs. Maurice Glick, above, won the Baltimore city golf championship for the eighth time the past weekend and looms as the "player to beat" in the sixth annual invitation tournament of the Women's Golf Association which opens tomorrow at the Cumberland Country Club. Mrs. Glick tied Mary Ann Downey at 158 for 36 holes last year in the local event but lost out in a sudden death playoff. In 1953 she finished third in the CCC tourney.

Cops 3d Straight In League, 5-1

Fort Cumberland Post No. 13 scored its third straight victory in the Mountain District, American Legion Junior Baseball League, by turning back Oakland in a game halted by rain in the top of the sixth inning yesterday at Fort Hill Field. The score was 5-1.

Charley Imes started on the hillock for the league leaders but weakened in the fourth when he issued two walks and hit a batter and yielded a run. Jesse Markley replaced him, fanned the side, and finished the game. DeWitt was the loser.

The locals collected ten hits, Imes leading the attack with a double and triple while Bruce and Valentine collected two singles each. Oakland's lone hit was a two-bagger by Hinkle in the second inning. Box:

Giants Blank St. Louis, 3-0

Gomez Dumps Cards Into Fifth Place

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Ruben Gomez, who had lost four straight since May 25, shut out the St. Louis Cardinals on three hits—two by former mates Al Dark and Whitey Lockman — as the New York Giants dumped the Redbirds into fifth place in the National League race tonight 3-0.

The Giants, who also had lost four in a row, got a pair of runs in the first inning as Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell walked the first three men he faced, and got another one home in the sixth on a double by Willie Mays and Don Mueller's pinch single.

Bill Sarni, one of the ex-Cards involved in the recent deal that sent Dark and Lockman from the Giants to St. Louis, singled in the second New York run. It came after Larry Jackson relieved Mizell, now 7-5 with three straight defeats, and had gotten Bobby Hofman to hit into a run-scoring doubleplay.

Gomez, now 3-7, walked only one and fanned five—including pinch-hitter Rip Repulski and Stan Musial in the ninth.

K. Of C. Break 18-Game String Of Defeats, 1-0

Edge VFW In Contest Halted By Rain In 6th

Cumberland's Knights of Columbus broke a two-season 18-game losing streak in the Rocking Chair Softball League by edging the V.F.W. yesterday at East Side Field by the score of 1-0 in contest halted by rain in the top of the sixth inning.

The Knights scored their second run of the game in the sixth and had two runners on the paths and none out when rain interrupted the tilt and the score reverted to five complete innings.

The game's lone run was scored in the second frame on a walk coupled with two errors.

It was the first win scored by the Knights since July 21, 1955 when they defeated the Outdoor Club by the score of 21-16 with Loibel gaining the decision over Troutman. The K. of C. closed out the 1955 campaign with six straight defeats and a 1-21 record and had lost their first 12 games of the current campaign.

Kenneth Gray, who had lost his two previous starts for the league cellarites, held the Vets to three hits in yesterday's abbreviated tilt while the Knights obtained two bingles off Klavuhn.

Rain yesterday washed out the game between the Outdoor Club and Loyal Order of Moose with the latter leading 7-6 in the top of the fourth inning with the Moose at bat, one out and a runner on third base. The game must be replayed in its entirety.

The K. of C. will play the B.P.O. Elks Thursday at 6:15 p. m., at Campobello. This game will replace the Elks-Celanese game which will be played at a later date. Yesterday's score:

K. of C.	010 00—1 2 1
V. F. W.	000 00—0 3 2

K. Gray and Harden. Klavuhn and Smith.

Walker Is Hero As Brooks Win

Bats In Six Runs To Sink Cubs, 10-5

BROOKLYN, June 26 (AP) — Al (Rube) Walker, Brooklyn's seldom seen second string catcher, drove in six runs with a home run, triple and double tonight as the Dodgers belted the Chicago Cubs 10-5 on 11 hits that also included a pair of home runs by Jackie Robinson.

Roy Campanella, the Dodgers' ace backstop, was on the bench with a swollen thumb for this one and the 30-year-old Walker, making only his 12th appearance behind the plate this season made the most of it.

With Walker leading the way, veteran Sal Maglie became the first Brooklyn pitcher to go the distance in the last 19 games, winning his second in three decisions on an eight-hitter that included home runs by Gene Baker and Walt Moryn.

It also was the seventh straight victory over the Cubs for Maglie, one-time New York Giant ace. The 39-year-old righthander hasn't lost to Chicago since Aug. 4, 1953, and he now is 12-2 lifetime against the Cubs.

The victory kept the Dodgers in third place in the National League race, 2½ games behind first-place Milwaukee.

Games Are Stopped By Jupiter Pluvius

Rain washed out a majority of baseball and softball games scheduled in the area yesterday.

The opening game of the series between the Eagles and Hygienic Sanitation ended in the 4th inning with the Eagles leading, 4-2. Jim Gaffney and George Harris were the pitchers.

In the Pen-Mar League, LaVale and Ellerslie were tied at 3-3 in the 6th when the rains came and the Barrelville at Cresaptown game was stopped in the second with the teams in a scoreless tie.

Burkey's led Stringtown 8-1 after 2½ innings when their County League game was rained out. The Potomac Valley Old Germans and Corriganville game was also a victim of Jupiter Pluvius.

Rain stopped the Mineral County League game at Westernport between the Tri-Towns Merchants and McCoole Vets and the tilt has been rescheduled for Wednesday.

The Pleiades are a cluster of seven small stars just at the bend in the "handle" of the Big Dipper.

Ben Hogan Captures International Golf Championship

'Wee Ice Mon' Conducts U.S. To Win In Canada Cup Series

Ben's 277, Snead's 290 Give Americans 14-Stroke Triumph

By STERLING SLAPPEY

VIRGINIA WATER, England, June 26 (AP)—Ben Hogan won the International Golf Championship and led the United States to victory in the Canada Cup today to prove that even on a lame leg and near exhaustion he still is the greatest golf player since Bobby Jones put down his clubs 26 years ago.

Hogan—"the Wee Ice Mon" to the Scots and "Oh Rare Ben Hogan" to the English—transformed a two-stroke deficit into a five-stroke lead within nine holes on the pay-off round today.

He flashed past Canada's Stan Leonard and Mexico's Robert de Vicenzo, finishing with a 277 for the 72-hole individual international championship. His final round was a 68.

U. S. Team Wins Cup

Hogan's 277 and Sam Snead's 290 after another final round in 68, easily were low enough to give America's two most famous golfers the Canada Cup for national teams with a 567 score.

The shot of the day, and maybe the shot of the year, was made by Hogan on the fourth hole in the last round. He had just taken the lead from Leonard, but the issue was still swinging.

Hogan's second shot on the 505-yard fourth went into a bunker 60 feet from the pin. Just as Hogan did three years ago at Carnoustie when he won the British Open, he holed out the shot, this time for an eagle three.

Hogan gave a big wink and a smile to a group of newsmen by the green.

De Vicenzo Is Second

For the individual championship De Vicenzo, an Argentine now living in Mexico, finished second with a 282 total.

Europe's best golfer, Flory van Donck of Royal Waterloo, Belgium, had a 283. Dai Rees of Wales was fourth with 284. Bobby Locke of South Africa was fifth with 285. Leonard, the third-round leader, slumped to sixth with a final round of 79 for 286.

Sam Snead overcame a harsh pain in his right hand and a terrific slump in his game to produce the final round of 68 for his 290 total.

The United States team total of 567 was 14 strokes better than anyone else in the field. South Africa was second with 581.

Others in the top seven nations were:

Canada 583, a tie for 4th between England and Japan each with 586, Wales 587 and Scotland 589.

29 Nations Compete

Golfers from 29 nations competed at Wentworth's 6,936 - yard course. John Jay Hopkins of Washington, builder of atomic submarines and warplanes, sponsors these events in an attempt to "promote international goodwill through golf."

Snead Quits Open

Snead said that he was definitely withdrawing from the British Open because of the slipped bone in his right hand and because he does not think he is playing well enough. Hogan did not enter this year's British Open.

Hogan's individual victory nets him $1,000 first money. He and Snead each receive $1,000 for being in the winning team.

Frank Bolling Gets Discharge From Army

ATLANTA, June 26 (AP) — Frank Bolling, Detroit Tiger second-baseman, was discharged from the Army at Ft. McPherson today.

Bolling immediately motored back to Detroit to join the Tigers, with whom he has been playing the past month while on terminal leave.

Bolling has been hitting at a .320 clip with the Tigers this month and was in the leadoff spot when he returned to Ft. McPherson to get his discharge.

Orioles Buy Joe Frazier

"Chuck" Diering Is Slated For Release

CLEVELAND, June 26 (AP) —Joe Frazier, a veteran baseball player with mostly utility experience in the major leagues, was bought today by the Baltimore Orioles from the Cincinnati Reds.

It is the second move in little more than a month for Frazier, who in three previous years had played only 148 games, less than a full season in the majors since 1947.

A left-handed hitting outfielder with some first and second base experience, the 33-year-old Frazier was traded last month by the St. Louis Cards to Cincinnati with Shortstop Alex Grammas for Third Baseman Charlie Harmon.

Frazier played nine games for Cleveland in 1947, was traded to the former St. Louis Browns and bounced around in the minor leagues until 1954 when he reappeared with the Cardinals.

Among his minor league stops was Baltimore when the Orioles were in the International League in 1949. He played 23 games and batted only .175. His batting average in the three seasons of major league baseball is an overall .238.

Manager Paul Richards, who said he paid more than the $10,000 waiver price for Frazier, will have to release an Oriole to make room for him.

Richards said the disposal ticket is due to be slapped on Chuck Diering. That will mean Richards will have disposed of every player on the squad when he took over as manager of the Orioles last season.

"We've been sadly lacking in punch from the left side of the plate," Richards said, "Frazier swings the bat very well and we are counting on him to hit the ball with considerable authority."

The robin, goldfinch and English sparrow are among the birds imported to United States territory by white settlers.

Brough, Gibson Bag Victories At Wimbledon

American Women Win Ten Matches

WIMBLEDON, England, June 26 (AP)—Louise Brough, seeking her fifth Wimbledon singles crown and Althea Gibson, after her first tennis title here, led a victorious batch of Americans through the opening round of the women's singles play today.

Some 22,000 spectators, including former President Harry S. Truman and Mrs. Truman, took advantage of a gorgeous, sunny day to pack the far-flung Wimbledon layout. They saw the American ladies sweep all their ten singles matches.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman, winding up their European holiday here, sat in the royal box on the center court and departed after about two hours after seeing top-seeded Miss Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., eliminate Jean Forbes, pretty 16-year-old South African 6-0, 6-0.

Miss Gibson, fourth seeded New Yorker, had a more difficult time in defeating Edda Buding, a 19-year-old German lass, 6-4, 6-2.

In the men's doubles, the second seeded American team of Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., won their first round match by downing the French team of Jean Borotra and Mustafa Belkhodja 6-4, 6-4.

In another men's doubles match, Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall, the Australian "twins," made short work of the Canadian pair, Lorne Barclay and Peter Willey. Hoad and Rosewall, seeded first and playing as a team for the first time here since winning the title in 1953, dropped only one game in each of the first two sets. They let the Canadians take the first two games of the final set, then ran out six games in a row to close the match 6-1, 6-1, 6-2.

One American team to go down was Gardnar Mulloy and Bud Robineau of Denver, who lost to the highly rated pair of Kurt Nielsen and Torben Ulrich of Denmark 6-4, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2.

SQUAT SHOT—Ben Hogan lines up a putt during the international individual and two-man Canada Cup tournaments played concurrently at Virginia Water, England. Hogan won the individual golf championship yesterday, and paired with Sam Snead, retained the Canada Cup team trophy for the U. S. in a strong finish. Hogan shot a 68 on the final round for a 72-hole final of 277. Snead also had a 68 for 290 and America's winning team total was 567. (AP Photofax)

Ben Hogan Captures International Golf Championship

'Wee Ice Mon' Conducts U.S. To Win In Canada Cup Series

By STERLING SLAPPEY

VIRGINIA WATER, England, June 26 (AP)—Ben Hogan won the International Golf Championship and led the United States to victory in the Canada Cup today to prove that even on a lame leg and near exhaustion he still is the greatest golf player since Bobby Jones put down his clubs 26 years ago.

Hogan—"the Wee Ice Mon" to the Scots and "Oh Rare Ben Hogan" to the English—transformed a two-stroke deficit into a five-stroke lead within nine holes on the pay-off round today.

He flashed past Canada's Stan Leonard and Mexico's Robert de Vicenzo, finishing with a 277 for the 72-hole individual international championship. His final round was a 68.

U. S. Team Wins Cup

Hogan's 277 and Sam Snead's 290 after another final round in 68, easily were low enough to give America's two most famous golfers the Canada Cup for national teams with a 567 score.

The shot of the day, and maybe the shot of the year, was made by Hogan on the fourth hole in the last round. He had just taken the lead from Leonard, but the issue was still swinging.

Hogan's second shot on the 505-yard fourth went into a bunker 60 feet from the pin. Just as Hogan did three years ago at Carnoustie when he won the British Open, he holed out the shot, this time for an eagle three.

Hogan gave a big wink and a smile to a group of newsmen by the green.

De Vicenzo Is Second

For the individual championship De Vicenzo, an Argentine now living in Mexico, finished second with a 282 total.

Europe's best golfer, Flory van Donck of Royal Waterloo, Belgium, had a 283. Dai Rees of Wales was fourth with 284. Bobby Locke of South Africa was fifth with 285. Leonard, the third-round leader, slumped to sixth with a final round of 79 for 286.

Sam Snead overcame a harsh pain in his right hand and a terrific slump in his game to produce the final round of 68 for his 290 total.

The United States team total of 567 was 14 strokes better than anyone else in the field. South Africa was second with 581.

Others in the top seven nations were:

29 Nations Compete

Golfers from 29 nations competed at Wentworth's 6,936 - yard course. John Jay Hopkins of Washington, builder of atomic submarines and warplanes, sponsors these events in an attempt to "promote international goodwill through golf."

Snead Quits Open

Snead said that he was definitely withdrawing from the British Open because of the slipped bone in his right hand and because he does not think he is playing well enough. Hogan did not enter this year's British Open.

Hogan's individual victory nets him $1,000 first money. He and Snead each receive $1,000 for being in the winning team.

Frank Bolling Gets Discharge From Army

ATLANTA, June 26 (AP) — Frank Bolling, Detroit Tiger second-baseman, was discharged from the Army at Ft. McPherson today.

Bolling immediately motored back to Detroit to join the Tigers, with whom he has been playing the past month while on terminal leave.

Bolling has been hitting at a .320 clip with the Tigers this month and was in the leadoff spot when he returned to Ft. McPherson to get his discharge.

Orioles Buy Joe Frazier

"Chuck" Diering Is Slated For Release

CLEVELAND, June 26 (AP) —Joe Frazier, a veteran baseball player with mostly utility experience in the major leagues, was bought today by the Baltimore Orioles from the Cincinnati Reds.

It is the second move in little more than a month for Frazier, who in three previous years had played only 148 games, less than a full season in the majors since 1947.

A left-handed hitting outfielder with some first and second base experience, the 33-year-old Frazier was traded last month by the St. Louis Cards to Cincinnati with Shortstop Alex Grammas for Third Baseman Charlie Harmon.

Frazier played nine games for Cleveland in 1947, was traded to the former St. Louis Browns and bounced around in the minor leagues until 1954 when he reappeared with the Cardinals.

Among his minor league stops was Baltimore when the Orioles were in the International League in 1949. He played 23 games and batted only .175. His batting average in the three seasons of major league baseball is an overall .238.

Manager Paul Richards, who said he paid more than the $10,000 waiver price for Frazier, will have to release an Oriole to make room for him.

Richards said the disposal ticket is due to be slapped on Chuck Diering. That will mean Richards will have disposed of every player on the squad when he took over as manager of the Orioles last season.

"We've been sadly lacking in punch from the left side of the plate," Richards said, "Frazier swings the bat very well and we are counting on him to hit the ball with considerable authority."

The robin, goldfinch and English sparrow are among the birds imported to United States territory by white settlers.

Flintstone Firemen Benefit Event Is Set For Breakneck Road

Appointment of a treasurer and committee chairmen for the second annual sports car hill climb to be staged on the Breakneck Road, east of Cumberland on Sunday, August 5, was announced last night by Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, general chairman of the program and also co-chairman of the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America, which has granted the event national rating.

Jesse Marshall has been appointed treasurer, Austin Miller heads the grounds committee, Lawrence Smith will be in charge of concessions, assisted by Berthred Hill, and Cleland Helmick is chairman of the committee on programs.

For the second year the hill climb is being staged for the benefit of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Department.

The 1955 event attracted 40 entries and approximately 1,000 persons were present for the test. It was the first event of its kind ever held in this section and the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America officials were so pleased with the terrain and the interest shown that they have granted national recognition to the August 5 climb.

Dr. Skitarelic served as co-chairman of the 1955 program.

Entries in a test of this type are limited but there is every assurance that the cream of the crop will compete now that the event has been graduated from a regional to national rating.

Breakneck Road, scene of the hill climb, is located off the Baltimore Pike on the west side of Martin's Mountain. The course is 1.6 miles in length and the best time is credited to Leo R. Dym who covered the distance in 1 minute, 10½ seconds last year in an Allard J2X.

Mary Ann Downey Among Seven U.S. Golf Winners

Score In British Amateur Golf Meet

SUNNINGDALE, England, June 26 (AP)—America's women golfers, frustrated in their effort to retain the Curtis Cup a couple of weeks ago, made a determined pitch for the British Women's Amateur Championship today and seven of them won their way through two gruelling rounds.

Pat Lesser of Seattle, the American champion, and Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., the 1954 U.S. titleholder, led the American parade into tomorrow's third round.

Eleven Americans began play this morning after two others who had entered belatedly withdrew. After the first round over the 6,002-yard Sunningdale course with its 36-36—72 par, there were eight left. By nightfall seven still were in there.

In the morning Miss Romack went out in 37, one over par, and defeated Mrs. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, wife of the two-time British amateur champion, 8 and 7. Mrs. Stranahan, a newcomer to big time golf, played with an injured finger on her left hand.

In the second round Barbara shot a sizzling two-under-par on the front nine against Mrs. Cosmo Falconer of Britain and won 5 and 4.

Other American survivors are Margaret (Wiffi) Smith, 19-year-old walloper from St. Clair, Mich.; Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., and Mrs. John Pennington of Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Janssen provided two of the day's surprises. First she beat Marianne Gripwall, one of Sweden's best players, 5 and 3, then she battled to a 1-up victory over Jeanne Bisgood, one of Britain's best.

Costa, Chestnut Clash Tonight

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Carmelo Costa risks his ranking as No. 4 featherweight contender against Ike Chestnut, recent graduate to the main event class, in the regular Wednesday night TV bout tomorrow. The little men clash at Capitol Arena in a 10-rounder.

It will be their third meeting, and by far the most important in their quest for a crack at Sandy Saddler's featherweight title.

Costa, 21-year-old combination puncher from Brooklyn, decisioned Chestnut two years ago when both were trying to make a name for themselves as prelim boys. Some time before that, when both were amateurs, Chestnut outpointed Costa.

Three Big League Hurlers Hit .300

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP) — Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox and Don Larsen of the New York Yankees are the only .300 hitters among major league pitchers. Wilson, the only one of the trio who hasn't been used as a pinch-hitter, is the top man with a .308 average.

Helping the White Sox with his strong right arm as well as his bat since his acquisition from Baltimore last month, Wilson has collected 12 hits in 39 at bats. One of his major contributions was a game-winning single against Cleveland in the 15th inning on May 17.

Larsen has fashioned 11 safeties in 36 trips for a .306 mark. He is the only pitcher to have hit a bases-filled home run this season.

Donovan, a .224 batter last season, shows a .303 average as a result of 10 hits in 33 times at bat. Dick has one home run, three doubles and has driven in eight tallies.

Zimmer Of Dodgers Undergoes Operation

BROOKLYN, June 26 (AP)—Don Zimmer, Brooklyn Dodger utility infielder, underwent an operation at Long Island College Hospital today to reduce the fracture on his left cheek. He was hit Saturday by a pitch thrown by Hal Jeffcoat of the Cincinnati Redlegs.

Zimmer suffered a mild concussion as well as the cheek fracture. Hospital attendants said the operation was successful and they believed he would be able to leave in two weeks. There was no indication when he might be able to play again.

HEADS PROGRAM—Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, who played a prominent part in bringing the first sports car races to the Cumberland Municipal Airport, is the general chairman of the second annual sports car hill climb that will be staged on the Breakneck road, east of Cumberland, on Sunday, August 5. Proceeds will go to the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Department. Dr. Skitarelic is also co-chairman of the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America, which has elevated the hill climb from regional to national rating.

The ancient Greeks regarded cock fighting so highly that funerals were held for the popular feathered combatants and monuments erected to them.

National Test Scheduled For Sunday, Aug. 5

Flintstone Firemen Benefit Event Is Set For Breakneck Road

Appointment of a treasurer and committee chairmen for the second annual sports car hill climb to be staged on the Breakneck Road, east of Cumberland on Sunday, August 5, was announced last night by Dr. Benedict Skitarelic, general chairman of the program and also co-chairman of the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America, which has granted the event national rating.

Jesse Marshall has been appointed treasurer, Austin Miller heads the grounds committee, Lawrence Smith will be in charge of concessions, assisted by Berthred Hill, and Cleland Helmick is chairman of the committee on programs.

For the second year the hill climb is being staged for the benefit of the Flintstone Volunteer Fire Department.

The 1955 event attracted 40 entries and approximately 1,000 persons were present for the test. It was the first event of its kind ever held in this section and the Washington Region, Sports Car Club of America officials were so pleased with the terrain and the interest shown that they have granted national recognition to the August 5 climb.

Dr. Skitarelic served as co-chairman of the 1955 program.

Entries in a test of this type are limited but there is every assurance that the cream of the crop will compete now that the event has been graduated from a regional to national rating.

Breakneck Road, scene of the hill climb, is located off the Baltimore Pike on the west side of Martin's Mountain. The course is 1.6 miles in length and the best time is credited to Leo R. Dym who covered the distance in 1 minute, 10½ seconds last year in an Allard J2X.

Pick Boxing Site

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26 (AP)—The Central Olympic Games boxing tryouts were awarded today to Louisville, Ky.

Mary Ann Downey Among Seven U.S. Golf Winners

Score In British Amateur Golf Meet

SUNNINGDALE, England, June 26 (AP)—America's women golfers, frustrated in their effort to retain the Curtis Cup a couple of weeks ago, made a determined pitch for the British Women's Amateur Championship today and seven of them won their way through two gruelling rounds.

Pat Lesser of Seattle, the American champion, and Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., the 1954 U.S. titleholder, led the American parade into tomorrow's third round.

Eleven Americans began play this morning after two others who had entered belatedly withdrew. After the first round over the 6,002-yard Sunningdale course with its 36-36—72 par, there were eight left. By nightfall seven still were in there.

In the morning Miss Romack went out in 37, one over par, and defeated Mrs. Frank Stranahan of Toledo, wife of the two-time British amateur champion, 8 and 7. Mrs. Stranahan, a newcomer to big time golf, played with an injured finger on her left hand.

In the second round Barbara shot a sizzling two-under-par on the front nine against Mrs. Cosmo Falconer of Britain and won 5 and 4.

Other American survivors are Margaret (Wiffi) Smith, 19-year-old walloper from St. Clair, Mich.; Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., and Mrs. John Pennington of Buffalo, N. Y.

Miss Janssen provided two of the day's surprises. First she beat Marianne Gripwall, one of Sweden's best players, 5 and 3, then she battled to a 1-up victory over Jeanne Bisgood, one of Britain's best.

Costa, Chestnut Clash Tonight

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Carmelo Costa risks his ranking as No. 4 featherweight contender against Ike Chestnut, recent graduate to the main event class, in the regular Wednesday night TV bout tomorrow. The little men clash at Capitol Arena in a 10-rounder.

It will be their third meeting, and by far the most important in their quest for a crack at Sandy Saddler's featherweight title.

Costa, 21-year-old combination puncher from Brooklyn, decisioned Chestnut two years ago when both were trying to make a name for themselves as prelim boys. Some time before that, when both were amateurs, Chestnut outpointed Costa.

Three Big League Hurlers Hit .300

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP) — Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox and Don Larsen of the New York Yankees are the only .300 hitters among major league pitchers. Wilson, the only one of the trio who hasn't been used as a pinch-hitter, is the top man with a .308 average.

Helping the White Sox with his strong right arm as well as his bat since his acquisition from Baltimore last month, Wilson has collected 12 hits in 39 at bats. One of his major contributions was a game-winning single against Cleveland in the 15th inning on May 17.

Larsen has fashioned 11 safeties in 36 trips for a .306 mark. He is the only pitcher to have hit a bases-filled home run this season.

Donovan, a .224 batter last season, shows a .303 average as a result of 10 hits in 33 times at bat. Dick has one home run, three doubles and has driven in eight tallies.

Blue Sunoco First Choice of Automotive Engineers

IT'S PREMIUM IN EVERY WAY... STILL AT REGULAR GAS PRICE

43% already are users of Blue Sunoco

Of the 1,166 engineers who reported on '56 Blue Sunoco, 43% told us they were already users of our gasoline. This was a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined—perhaps the greatest testimonial any gasoline ever had!

Blue Sunoco is recommended for the newest high-compression cars when owners' manuals specify a premium gasoline.

Up again in octane

Blue Sunoco is the only gasoline that meets the new higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price. Follow the lead of automotive engineers. Make your own 10-gallon test today.

COMPARISON CHART

This is what automotive engineers reported after comparing New '56 Blue Sunoco with premium-priced gasolines in their own cars

93% say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for overall performance	91% say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for power and pick-up
85% say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for anti-knock performance	86% say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for miles per gallon

Blue Sunoco First Choice of Automotive Engineers over all other premiums combined

IT'S PREMIUM IN EVERY WAY... STILL AT REGULAR GAS PRICE

We invited a large group of automotive engineers to try Blue Sunoco, boosted in octane, in their own cars and give us their reactions. The results of this survey, compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants, make New Blue Sunoco the favorite.

43% already are users of Blue Sunoco

Of the 1,166 engineers who reported on '56 Blue Sunoco, 43% told us they were already users of our gasoline. This was a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined—perhaps the greatest testimonial any gasoline ever had!

West Virginia Farm Census Figures Cited

Area Counties' Importance Stressed

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—The importance of the South Branch Valley and the Eastern Panhandle counties in West Virginia's agricultural picture are emphasized in a release from the Bureau of the Census which listed dollar volume of farm production in West Virginia collected in the 1954 Census of Agriculture.

Kenneth P. Brundage, extension farm management specialist at West Virginia University, said that the four counties which reported cash sales of over $5 million in 1954 were Jefferson, Berkeley, Hardy and Pendleton.

Total farm sales for the mountain State were listed at $90.5 million. They included $25.8 million for livestock and livestock products; $24.6 million for poultry and poultry products; $16.3 million for dairy products; $12.2 million for fruit products; $7.1 million for field crops; $2.1 million for horticultural specialties; $1.7 million for forest products and $500,000 for vegetables.

Hardy County led the entire state in sales of livestock and livestock products, with $6.6 million. Next were Pendleton, $5.7 million; Grant, $4.6 million and Greenbrier, $3.4 million. Some 21 counties had sales of more than one million dollars.

In the crop figures, Jefferson County was first with $4.43 million of sales. Next were Berkeley County with $4.4 million of sales, Hampshire County with $2 million, Mason County with $900,000 and Morgan County with $800,000. The leading counties in fruit sales were Berkeley, 3.9 million; Jefferson, $3.6 million, and Hampshire, $1.8 million.

The value of farm sales in West Virginia made a 10 per cent increase from figures reported in the 1949 Census of Agriculture.

ROMNEY — With the completion of the spring polio vaccination clinics, the records indicate that 1,559 persons in Hampshire County have received at least the first two immunization shots since the vaccine first became available in April, 1955.

Of this number, 388 were vaccinated in the first and second grades of the county's schools in the program last year when the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis furnished the vaccine.

During 1956, 1,078 children from infants through 14-year-olds, have received free vaccine furnished by the United State Public Health Service. In addition to these children, 28 expectant mothers have received the two shots in the clinics held by the local Health Department.

There are at least 65 others who have received their first two injections from private physicians in the county. The exact number who have been vaccinated by private physicians is impossible to determine.

The State Department of Health estimates that there are 2,000 children and expectant mothers in the county falling within the age group limits making them eligible to receive the vaccine. Of this number, approximately 80 per cent have received the first two injections. This meant that that number of possible polio victims have been immunized before the start of what is normally considered the polio season.

The age limit for polio vaccinations has just recently been raised so that it now includes the group from 15 to 19, inclusive. It will not be possible for clinics to be held to vaccinate this group during the summer months because of transportation difficulties, but this group will be eligible to receive the free vaccinations when the clinics are held this fall again after the beginning of the school year. Parents of children in this new age group are urged to take their children to family physicians for vaccination immediately as it has been determined that they do receive a certain amount of protection from the first shot. It has also been found that there is absolutely no harm in giving the polio shots during the hot weather even though that is the time when most polio cases occur.

West Virginia Farm Census Figures Cited

Area Counties' Importance Stressed

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—The importance of the South Branch Valley and the Eastern Panhandle counties in West Virginia's agricultural picture are emphasized in a release from the Bureau of the Census which listed dollar volume of farm production in West Virginia collected in the 1954 Census of Agriculture.

Kenneth P. Brundage, extension farm management specialist at West Virginia University, said that the four counties which reported cash sales of over $5 million in 1954 were Jefferson, Berkeley, Hardy and Pendleton.

Total farm sales for the mountain State were listed at $90.5 million. They included $25.8 million for livestock and livestock products; $24.6 million for poultry and poultry products; $16.3 million for dairy products; $12.2 million for fruit products; $7.1 million for field crops; $2.1 million for horticultural specialties; $1.7 million for forest products and $500,000 for vegetables.

Hardy County led the entire state in sales of livestock and livestock products, with $6.6 million. Next were Pendleton, $5.7 million; Grant, $4.6 million and Greenbrier, $3.4 million. Some 21 counties had sales of more than one million dollars.

In the crop figures, Jefferson County was first with $4.43 million of sales. Next were Berkeley County with $4.4 million of sales, Hampshire County with $2 million, Mason County with $900,000 and Morgan County with $800,000. The leading counties in fruit sales were Berkeley, 3.9 million; Jefferson, $3.6 million, and Hampshire, $1.8 million.

The value of farm sales in West Virginia made a 10 per cent increase from figures reported in the 1949 Census of Agriculture.

The Staircase Caper

The "Climax" version of Mary Roberts Rinehart's 48-year-old classic murder mystery, "The Circular Staircase," opened with a shot of a ticking clock. The camera then panned over to the circular staircase itself and followed a pair of male legs up the staircase, later revealing that the man who owned the legs had a gun in his hand; suddenly the camera caught a girl entering the gloomy mansion, while a man watched furtively from the balustrade, and followed her as she flew up the stairs and down a corridor.

All this took about four minutes, during which not a line of dialogue was spoken; the cameramen were having all the fun; the actors were having a track meet. The whole hour—a most enjoyable hour—was pretty much the same, with actors loping down corridors and up the staircase hotly pursued by the cameras. Everyone must have been breathing hard after it was all over.

"The Circular Staircase" was published in 1908, has sold about a million copies all over the world since then and is as readable today as the day it was written. Mrs. Rinehart, who is 79 years old, grumbles that she has written much better books since; why all the bother about her first one?

I think I can understand why. Mrs. Rinehart simply gives the reader an awful lot for his money. Her characters are a good many cuts above average for mystery fiction; her style is as concise and economical as anyone who ever wrote; her plots marvelously intricate as they are, thin out as plausibly as a problem in geometry. Also she throws in a bit of romance and a lot of humor. Quite a dish in all.

"The Circular Staircase," as if everyone didn't know, is about a spinster, Rachel Innes, who rents a house in the country for the summer and has one hell of a night of it—corpses piling up at the foot of that staircase like cordwood. In the book, the action stretches out over days, but the adapter (Frank Gruber) compressed it into a single night and, unfortunately, had to throw out three or four characters, quite a lot of plot, and some very good scenes. Even then, it must have been quite a task boiling it down to 54 minutes.

The spinster role—Rachel Innes is a sharp-tongued, indomitable and thoroughly likeable old party—is what is known in the trade as a good fun part. Judith Anderson played it at roughly half her normal horsepower and seemed to be having a swell time. She was shored up by two excellent actors—Rhys Williams as the Inspector, and Kevin McCarthy as her nephew Halsey—and they seemed to be having a fine time too.

The play is a matter of split second timing; the screams, the pistol shot, the opening and closing of doors have to take place precisely on schedule and I'm awed that the cameramen, chasing down all those corridors, didn't run over a couple of actors. It was a rough night on the actors. The butler, Rex Ingram, rolling down the staircase, and Armstrong (played by Brick Sullivan) plunging over the balustrade at the very end were two of the toughest prat falls I ever saw in live television. I just hope they didn't break any bones.

Thursday was a great night for staircases, all right. The same night Lux Video Theater opened its new Preview Series, which is to show us live capsule dramatizations of picture that have not yet been made. This is a new wrinkle indeed. Lux Radio used to offer adaptations of old movie scripts—many of them real old. When television came in, Lux was prevented from laying its hot hands on any movie scripts at all, so greatly was TV feared as a competitor. Now they have access to properties bought for films before the films are even under way. Times have sure changed.

Anyhow, the first one was "The Corrigan Case." This too was set in a gloomy old mansion and centered around a staircase, though not a circular one. Actors were running up and down that staircase, listening at doorways and up to their necks in murder. Right there the resemblance ends. "The Corrigan Case" was a static, talky affair about a murder that took place a long time ago. (Mrs. Rinehart shoots them right down in front of your eyes). And the plot of the "Corrigan Case" is about as complicated as a screen door. The characters are unappetizing and the denouement not very surprising. Even the staircase wasn't very interesting.

At the staircase caper, Mrs. Rinehart is clearly the class of the field.

Daily Bridge Lesson

by B. Jay Becker

North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

	♠ A 10 9 ♥ K 9 2 ♦ A 8 4 3 ♣ A J 10
♠ K J 5 ♥ 6 4 3 ♦ J 10 9 2 ♣ 7 6 3	N W E S	♠ 8 6 4 3 2 ♥ 7 ♦ Q 7 5 ♣ 8 5 4 2
	♠ Q 7 ♥ A Q J 10 8 5 ♦ K 6 ♣ K Q

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	7 ♥

Opening lead—jack of diamonds.

South was a player who came from the school that believes nothing succeeds like excess. Having learned that North had three aces as part of his notrump bid, South went all the way to the grand slam without bothering to inquire about the number of kings held by North. Had he done so, he would have learned that the opposition held a king, which meant there was no certainty of more than twelve tricks. In South's defense, however, it can be said that North might have had either the queen of diamonds or a fourth club, either of which produces the thirteenth trick.

It has been our observation that, generally speaking, players who handle dummies well tend to overbid on the strength of it. This South was no exception, because he produced thirteen tricks where there appeared to be only twelve.

After winning the opening lead with the king of diamonds, South took three rounds of trumps and his three club tricks. Next he cashed the ace of diamonds, and trumped a third round of diamonds. South then played his last two trumps, leaving himself with Q-7 of spades. On the last trump played, West's three cards were K-J of spades and the ten of diamonds, and dummy consisted of A-10 of spades and the eight of diamonds. West could not find a convenient card to play. Whichever suit he discarded, dummy would discard the other, and dummy would win the last two tricks.

The squeeze play operated by South would not succeed if South had failed to ruff one of dummy's diamonds. For the declarer to execute a squeeze, one defender must have two suits to guard against. If declarer permits East to retain his diamond stopper, West will have no burden to carry except the spade stopper.

By clearing East of his diamonds, the responsibility of caring for both spades and diamonds is thrust upon West. The extra burden, as we have seen, proved to be much more than West could bear. All's well that ends well.

New Roof, Spouting To Be Installed On County Home

The bid of Johnson and Goss, local contractors, to reroof and install new spouting on the County Home building was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The bid was $7,370.82 to install asbestos shingles on the approximately 8,000 square feet of roof and install the gutters and downspouts.

John Trostle, local roofing contractor, was named as inspector for the project.

Other bidders on the job were G. A. Largent, city, $7,622; Alex J. Schute, city, $8,116.77; John Trostle, city, $7,534.88 for the roofing and $596.10 for the spouting work; and Milo Brewer, LaVale, $7,839.90.

The commissioners also announced that one week of vacation for employes in the Roads Department will begin Monday, July 2. The employes receive another week at a time of their convenience.

A letter from C. William Gilchrist, attorney for Ribbon Copies Corporation of America, stated that the tax exemption for new industries in Allegany County was being requested. The new plant is located at Mt. Savage.

Gilchrist said that the legislative act providing for such tax exemptions was passed to foster new jobs and the firm was happy to report that 50 new jobs have been created and a substantial number are expected to be added shortly.

George Schoenadel reported that water is running onto the Deffinbaugh farm in the Lower Town Creek section from a county road.

Oscar Summerfield reported that water is washing out the Brashear Road and Hall Hollow Road off Williams Road. Both complaints were referred to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor.

The Staircase Caper

The "Climax" version of Mary Roberts Rinehart's 48-year-old classic murder mystery, "The Circular Staircase," opened with a shot of a ticking clock. The camera then panned over to the circular staircase itself and followed a pair of male legs up the staircase, later revealing that the man who owned the legs had a gun in his hand; suddenly the camera caught a girl entering the gloomy mansion, while a man watched furtively from the balustrade, and followed her as she flew up the stairs and down a corridor.

All this took about four minutes, during which not a line of dialogue was spoken; the cameramen were having all the fun; the actors were having a track meet. The whole hour—a most enjoyable hour—was pretty much the same, with actors loping down corridors and up the staircase hotly pursued by the cameras. Everyone must have been breathing hard after it was all over.

"The Circular Staircase" was published in 1908, has sold about a million copies all over the world since then and is as readable today as the day it was written. Mrs. Rinehart, who is 79 years old, grumbles that she has written much better books since; why all the bother about her first one?

Daily Bridge Lesson

by B. Jay Becker

North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

North: ♠ A 10 9 ♥ K 9 2 ♦ A 8 4 3 ♣ A J 10
West: ♠ K J 5 ♥ 6 4 3 ♦ J 10 9 2 ♣ 7 6 3
East: ♠ 8 6 4 3 2 ♥ 7 ♦ Q 7 5 ♣ 8 5 4 2
South: ♠ Q 7 ♥ A Q J 10 8 5 ♦ K 6 ♣ K Q

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 NT	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
4 ♥	Pass	4 NT	Pass
5 ♠	Pass	7 ♥

Opening lead—jack of diamonds.

South was a player who came from the school that believes nothing succeeds like excess. Having learned that North had three aces as part of his notrump bid, South went all the way to the grand slam without bothering to inquire about the number of kings held by North. Had he done so, he would have learned that the opposition held a king, which meant there was no certainty of more than twelve tricks. In South's defense, however, it can be said that North might have had either the queen of diamonds or a fourth club, either of which produces the thirteenth trick.

It has been our observation that, generally speaking, players who handle dummies well tend to overbid on the strength of it. This South was no exception, because he produced thirteen tricks where there appeared to be only twelve.

After winning the opening lead with the king of diamonds, South took three rounds of trumps and his three club tricks. Next he cashed the ace of diamonds, and trumped a third round of diamonds. South then played his last two trumps, leaving himself with Q-7 of spades. On the last trump played, West's three cards were K-J of spades and the ten of diamonds, and dummy consisted of A-10 of spades and the eight of diamonds. West could not find a convenient card to play. Whichever suit he discarded, dummy would discard the other, and dummy would win the last two tricks.

The squeeze play operated by South would not succeed if South had failed to ruff one of dummy's diamonds. For the declarer to execute a squeeze, one defender must have two suits to guard against. If declarer permits East to retain his diamond stopper, West will have no burden to carry except the spade stopper.

By clearing East of his diamonds, the responsibility of caring for both spades and diamonds is thrust upon West. The extra burden, as we have seen, proved to be much more than West could bear. All's well that ends well.

New Roof, Spouting To Be Installed On County Home

The bid of Johnson and Goss, local contractors, to reroof and install new spouting on the County Home building was accepted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The bid was $7,370.82 to install asbestos shingles on the approximately 8,000 square feet of roof and install the gutters and downspouts.

John Trostle, local roofing contractor, was named as inspector for the project.

Other bidders on the job were G. A. Largent, city, $7,622; Alex J. Schute, city, $8,116.77; John Trostle, city, $7,534.88 for the roofing and $596.10 for the spouting work; and Milo Brewer, LaVale, $7,839.90.

The commissioners also announced that one week of vacation for employes in the Roads Department will begin Monday, July 2. The employes receive another week at a time of their convenience.

A letter from C. William Gilchrist, attorney for Ribbon Copies Corporation of America, stated that the tax exemption for new industries in Allegany County was being requested. The new plant is located at Mt. Savage.

Gilchrist said that the legislative act providing for such tax exemptions was passed to foster new jobs and the firm was happy to report that 50 new jobs have been created and a substantial number are expected to be added shortly.

George Schoenadel reported that water is washing onto the Deffinbaugh farm in the Lower Town Creek section from a county road.

Oscar Summerfield reported that water is washing out the Brashear Road and Hall Hollow Road off Williams Road. Both complaints were referred to J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor.

WIFE PRESERVERS

This is a new ironing table — with wheels. It also has an easy opening and closing; a finger touch adjustment for comfortable ironing, either standing or sitting. It rolls on the wheels, has a self-leveling front foot, and is made of steel with a perforated top.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear Mother, Sarah E. Rockley, who departed this life, June 26, 1936.
Twenty years have passed since that sad day
When the one we loved was called away.
God took her Home, it was His Will,
Within our hearts, she liveth still.

An Important Message For Parents

If your son is between 17 and 18½ years of age, he can start completing his military obligation now. He can enlist in a local unit of the Army Reserve now and still continue his high school education. The SPECIAL enlistment requires only six months of active duty training and this training DOES NOT INTERFERE with normal high school attendance. Since January, over 500 young men have enlisted in Army Reserve units in Maryland and the number enlisting is growing—many men who enlisted earlier under this SPECIAL program have completed their six months training and are now ineligible for the draft while they perform their reserve duty training with local units.

May we strongly suggest that parents inquire today and get the complete details on this SPECIAL enlistment. Some parents have been deeply disappointed because they were not fully aware of this SPECIAL program until after their son passed the age of 18½ years—the age limitations are specified by law and waivers on age are not permitted.

Full details can be obtained, during the day and on most evenings, at Army Reserve Training Center:

In Memoriam

In memory of our dear Mother, Sarah E. Reckley, who departed this life, June 26, 1936.
Twenty years have passed since that sad day
When the one we loved was called away.
God took her Home, it was His Will,
Within our hearts, she liveth still.
HER CHILDREN

Card of Thanks

I take this means to express my sincere thanks to our relatives, friends and neighbors, who were so kind to me in my recent bereavement, the death of my beloved wife, Mrs. Mae Arbogast. I also thank Rev. Grimm, those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.

An Important Message For Parents

If your son is between 17 and 18½ years of age, he can start completing his military obligation now. He can enlist in a local unit of the Army Reserve now and still continue his high school education. The SPECIAL enlistment requires only six months of active duty training and this training DOES NOT INTERFERE with normal high school attendance. Since January, over 500 young men have enlisted in Army Reserve units in Maryland and the number enlisting is growing—many men who enlisted earlier under this SPECIAL program have completed their six months training and are now ineligible for the draft while they perform their reserve duty training with local units.

May we strongly suggest that parents inquire today and get the complete details on this SPECIAL enlistment. Some parents have been deeply disappointed because they were not fully aware of this SPECIAL program until after their son passed the age of 18½ years—the age limitations are specified by law and waivers on age are not permitted.

Full details can be obtained, during the day and on most evenings, at Army Reserve Training Center:

Flood Control Work Hampered By Wet Weather

Coffer Dam Is Built In Creek

Work on three contracts let in connection with the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project is progressing in spite of the heavy rains which have hit the Cumberland area in recent weeks.

The Hazelwood Construction Company, which began recently on Section 4 of the Wills Creek channel, is working on the left side of the stream and by yesterday had extended a coffer dam from the mouth of the creek about halfway to the Baltimore Street Bridge.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said the firm will begin exploratory work in the channel as soon as the coffer dam is built and the water subsides.

The exploration is being undertaken, he said, to learn what will be needed to protect existing structures in the creek.

Workers yesterday strung telephone lines to serve the Engineers' inspector's office below the Western Maryland watch box at Baltimore Street.

Upstream, near the paved portion of Wills Creek, E. J. Albrecht Company crews are excavating for the toe wall and placing reinforcing steel for channel paving.

These crews have been hampered by high water which has plagued the job since early spring.

The same company has the contract for Potomac River Channel Section 1 and has completed most of this work except for levee construction.

Placing of fill for the levees was slated to resume today, but last night's rain may cause further delay. Earth cannot be placed on the levees if it is too wet.

Comptroller Retires

Glenn T. Swisher (left) has retired from his post as comptroller of the Potomac Edison Company. The board of directors yesterday named Assistant Comptroller Byron A. Winebrenner (center) to succeed Swisher, and promoted Galen C. Smith (right) from assistant to the comptroller to assistant comptroller, to succeed Winebrenner effective July 1.

Winebrenner Succeeds Swisher In PE Position

The resignation of Glenn T. Swisher as comptroller of the Potomac Edison Company was accepted by the company's board of directors at the annual meeting yesterday in Frederick.

Swisher is retiring from active service after more than 20 years in PE's accounting department.

The board elected Byron A. Winebrenner, assistant comptroller to succeed Swisher. Glenn C. Smith, former assistant to the comptroller, was elected to the post of assistant comptroller, replacing Winebrenner.

Swisher has been associated with the company since 1924, when he was employed by PE's sister company in Fairmont, W. Va. He joined the PE System as comptroller in 1935 and has played an important role in the accounting work related to the development of the firm since then.

Long active in civic affairs, he is particularly interested in the Chamber of Commerce and the Community Chest. He and Mrs. Swisher will continue to make their home in Frederick.

Winebrenner began work with PE in 1913, held numerous positions in the accounting department, and served as chief clerk and auditor before being appointed assistant comptroller in 1930.

Smith began his employment with Potomac Edison in 1934 as a member of the payroll department. Later, he held the posts of voucher clerk, disbursement clerk, special accountant, and chief clerk. He was named assistant to Swisher in 1952.

The new appointments are effective July 1.

Potomac Edison Builds Lines To Glass Plant

Power Output Is Boosted 11 Per Cent

Two of the 33,000 volt lines to the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant have been completed and the third line will be completed sometime during July, according to R. Paul Smith, president of the Potomac Edison Company.

The new lines, he told the board of directors at yesterday's annual meeting, will meet the customer's requirements, which will begin about August 1.

The PPG lines were part of a heavy construction program which has been carried on during the past three months without serious interruptions due to weather conditions.

The addition of the 75,000 kw unit at the R. Paul Smith Station, previously authorized for construction, is progressing satisfactorily. Engineering details have been completed and the major equipment has been ordered. The field office will be built this summer and actual construction on the project will be started in October.

Build New Lines

Construction of the new 132 kv transmission line from Albright, W. Va. to Junction, W. Va., directors were told, is likewise progressing satisfactorily and is scheduled for completion in October. The line is 44 miles in length and will cost an estimated $1,700,000. This line will introduce important additional capacity into the System and will improve service. The line will be continued 55 miles from Junction to Millville, W. Va. and completed to Millville by the fall of 1957.

The new 33 kv line, 12.5 miles in length, from Strasburg, Va. to Wardensville, W. Va., is in the process of construction, and is scheduled for completion during 1956.

The new 132 kv line and substation facilities from Thurmont to Union Bridge, 12.7 miles in length, is under construction and will be completed by the end of the year at a cost of approximately $750,000.

The new 33 kv line from Luray to Stanley to Shenandoah, Va., was completed in May.

Serve New Plants

The company also has under construction and reconstruction a number of other major substation, transmission and distribution projects which are scheduled for completion by the end of the year.

An unusual number of new and increased industrial facilities are being built throughout the Potomac Edison territory, several of which have already been completed and a number of others will be completed during the year. The enlarged facilities of the Standard Lime and Stone Company have been completed. North American Cement Corporation has likewise enlarged its Security, Md. plant. The construction program of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company is progressing.

Construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is progressing on schedule and service will be required about August 1.

State To Get $490 Million For New Roads

Federal Highway Program Outlined

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Maryland probably will receive about 490 million dollars during the next 13 years under terms of the mammoth highway bill approved today by Congress.

Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md), co-sponsor of the bill, said most of the money will go for construction of "broad, straight, trouble-free roads, four to eight lanes wide."

They will tie in with a new 42,000-mile national network of highways to be built under the biggest nondefense program in the nation's history.

Bigger Percentage

Fallon said in addition to funds for the interstate system, Maryland will get a larger sum for building new primary, secondary and urban roads.

Under existing legislation the federal government contributes on a 50-50 matching basis and the State would receive $9,500,000 for primary secondary and urban roads during the fiscal year beginning next Sunday. The Fallon bill increases that amount to $13,300,000.

For 1958 and 1959, Maryland will receive 20 million dollars for its state and city roads and $56,400,000 more for Maryland's part of the interstate system.

Beginning in 1960, Fallon said, the federal aid will be apportioned on the basis of the estimated cost of the interstate highway system over a 10-year period.

Maryland officials have estimated that cost to be about 400 million, with the state getting about 40 million each year for the 10 years beginning in 1960.

Will Restudy Projects

As far as the primary, secondary and urban roads are concerned, Congress will continue to reconsider them each two years. Only road projects which have the approval of the federal government's Bureau of Public Roads will be eligible for the 90 per cent aid provided in the new bill.

Four such highways are the Baltimore - Washington Expressway, and U.S. 40, now in use; the Jones Falls Expressway through Baltimore, a small part of which is now under construction, and the so-called Northeast Radial, still in the planning stages, which would form the northern side of a proposed highway ring around the inner city.

Head Local S. A. Corps

Lt. and Mrs. James Pappas have assumed joint command of the South Cumberland Salvation Army Corps after their return from a brief wedding trip. They were married June 12 in Clarksburg, W. Va. Mrs. Pappas is the former Second Lt. Dolores Dawson, former assistant at the Salisbury Salvation Army Corps. Lt. Pappas has been commander of the South Cumberland corps since January.

$465,003 Spent On Two Road Jobs In County

Report Covers 11-Month Period

Some $465,003.54 has been spent in the first 11 months of the fiscal year now ending on the Mt. Savage School Road and the approach road to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch, according to a report from the State Roads Commission to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Both of these projects are supervised by the SRC although the costs are borne by the federal government and the county commissioners.

The report shows that as of last July 1, the SRC had a balance of $306,463.72 for these two projects. Additional receipts of $105,650 from the federal government and $84,712 from the county commissioners bring to $496,825.72 the total cash funds available for the jobs.

Of that amount $9,463.17 has been spent for already completed projects on the Mt. Savage School road job. Another $347,404.86 was spent for projects still in progress in conjunction with that road. Some $108,125.51 has been spent on the North Branch road linking State Route 51 and the PPG plant.

The cash balance for the two projects as of May 31 was $31,822.18. Additional anticipated receipts of $445,600 from the federal aid agreements and $8,022.76 from the county commissioners would bring the estimated balance after those receipts of $485,444.94, which is also the estimated expenditures needed to complete the projects in progress.

Keegan Presented Plaque For City Casualty Record

During a Pedestrian Protection Awards luncheon held yesterday in Baltimore, Police and Fire Commissioner William V. Keegan was presented a plaque for the City of Cumberland, which won honorable mention for the casualty record for cities with a population from 25,000 to 50,000 persons.

The luncheon was held at the Sheraton Belvedere Hotel. The plaque was presented to Commissioner Keegan by Leonard E. Kolmer, general manager of the Automobile Club of Maryland, sponsors of the affair.

In accepting the plaque Commissioner Keegan said:

"On behalf of the Mayor and City of Cumberland it is a pleasure to accept this special citation. As Police Commissioner it is my aim to see that all children and adults alike are protected from the reckless driver."

Cumberland and Salisbury had no pedestrian fatalities during 1955, according to Commissioner Keegan. Various other cities and communities from throughout Maryland were honored during the luncheon.

Among those who attended were Paul E. Burke, executive director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission; Leon Abramson, president of the Baltimore City Council; W. W. Cloud, president of the Automobile Club of Maryland; Glen T. Lashley, in charge of the pedestrian protection program of the American Automobile Association; Col. Elmer F. Munshower, superintendent of the Maryland State Police, and Richard A. Hartman, director of public relations for the auto club.

Traffic Safety Award Will Be Given To City

The National Safety Council will present a plaque to the City of Cumberland Friday for having gone fatality free for one year or more, according to Paul E. Burke, executive director of the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission.

The award will be presented by Gov. McKeldin during the annual traffic safety awards luncheon held in Ocean City in connection with the eighth annual conference in the Maryland Municipal League.

Similar awards will be presented to 13 Western Maryland communities.

To Receive Awards

The communities include Accident, Barton, Friendsville, Luke, Midland, Mt. Lake Park, Westernport, Frostburg, Kitzmiller, Grantsville, Hancock, Lonaconing and Oakland.

The plaques are being presented for the towns having gone from one to five years without a traffic fatality.

One of the leading communities as far as traffic safety is concerned is Accident which is rated as one of the safest towns in the United States. The little Garrett County community has completed five years without experiencing a fatality as a result of any automobile collision. Accident has also gone without a pedestrian death during the past five years.

Legion Hears Rescue Plans From CD Head

William G. Barger, Allegany County coordinator for the Maryland Civil Defense program, and Jesse Baker, rescue squad instructor, spoke to members of Fort Cumberland Post 13, American Legion, at the organization's meeting last night.

Barger explained the problems now facing CD in this county, and preparations to meet any emergency. Prospects for the local Legion post to form an eight-member rescue squad with eight alternates also were outlined.

Barger said the Legion Auxiliary already has agreed to form a mobile motor corps unit for Civil Defense work and he issued an invitation to Legion members to attend a review of rescue squads in training now at Constitution Park on July 6 at 8 p.m.

The post membership decided last night to attend the rescue squad review next month and then take action for forming a new Legion rescue squad within the next six weeks.

TB, Cancer Disclosed In Survey

A final report on the recent mass chest X-ray survey shows that some 38 of the more than 5,000 persons who participated have chest conditions which require investigation or attention.

Full-size X-rays taken at the Health Department offices here disclosed nine possible cases of tuberculosis.

Another five of the persons were suffering from ailments tentatively diagnosed as cancer.

Heart abnormalities were disclosed in seven others, and other chest conditions which need investigation were noted for 10 persons.

Six other citizens of the county were found to be suffering from silicosis and one person was found to be suffering from a goiter.

Six others for whom large X-rays were ordered were found to be free from any chest abnormality.

During the annual chest survey, which began here in mid-March, almost 5,200 citizens of Allegany County took advantage of the visit of the mobile X-ray unit, sponsored by the Allegany-Garrett and state TB associations and the county and state health departments.

The miniature pictures were studied by state health physicians, who asked that full-sized pictures be taken of some 50 of the participants.

Each bicycle is inspected at Police Headquarters before the tags are issued to the owners. The bike must be equipped with a horn and also have good brakes. A light on the front end and rear also are required. Tags may be obtained at headquarters from 10 a. m. until noon and from 1 p. m. until 4 p. m. Monday through Friday.

Flood Control Work Hampered By Wet Weather

Coffer Dam Is Built In Creek

Work on three contracts let in connection with the Cumberland-Ridgeley flood control project is progressing in spite of the heavy rains which have hit the Cumberland area in recent weeks.

The Hazelwood Construction Company, which began recently on Section 4 of the Wills Creek channel, is working on the left side of the stream and by yesterday had extended a coffer dam from the mouth of the creek about halfway to the Baltimore Street Bridge.

Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer for the Corps of Engineers, said the firm will begin exploratory work in the channel as soon as the coffer dam is built and the water subsides.

The exploration is being undertaken, he said, to learn what will be needed to protect existing structures in the creek.

Workers yesterday strung telephone lines to serve the Engineers' inspector's office below the Western Maryland watch box at Baltimore Street.

Upstream, near the paved portion of Wills Creek, E. J. Albrecht Company crews are excavating for the toe wall and placing reinforcing steel for channel paving.

These crews have been hampered by high water which has plagued the job since early spring.

The same company has the contract for Potomac River Channel Section 1 and has completed most of this work except for levee construction.

Placing of fill for the levees was slated to resume today, but last night's rain may cause further delay. Earth cannot be placed on the levees if it is too wet.

Potomac Edison Builds Lines To Glass Plant

Power Output Is Boosted 11 Per Cent

Two of the 33,000 volt lines to the new Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant have been completed and the third line will be completed sometime during July, according to R. Paul Smith, president of the Potomac Edison Company.

The new lines, he told the board of directors at yesterday's annual meeting, will meet the customer's requirements, which will begin about August 1.

The PPG lines were part of a heavy construction program which has been carried on during the past three months without serious interruptions due to weather conditions.

The addition of the 75,000 kw unit at the R. Paul Smith Station, previously authorized for construction, is progressing satisfactorily. Engineering details have been completed and the major equipment has been ordered. The field office will be built this summer and actual construction on the project will be started in October.

Build New Lines

Construction of the new 132 kv transmission line from Albright, W. Va. to Junction, W. Va., directors were told, is likewise progressing satisfactorily and is scheduled for completion in October. The line is 44 miles in length and will cost an estimated $1,700,000. This line will introduce important additional capacity into the System and will improve service. The line will be continued 55 miles from Junction to Millville, W. Va. and completed to Millville by the fall of 1957.

The new 33 kv line, 12.5 miles in length, from Strasburg, Va. to Wardensville, W. Va., is in the process of construction, and is scheduled for completion during 1956.

The new 132 kv line and substation facilities from Thurmont to Union Bridge, 12.7 miles in length, is under construction and will be completed by the end of the year at a cost of approximately $750,000.

The new 33 kv line from Luray to Stanley to Shenandoah, Va., was completed in May.

Serve New Plants

The company also has under construction and reconstruction a number of other major substation, transmission and distribution projects which are scheduled for completion by the end of the year.

An unusual number of new and increased industrial facilities are being built throughout the Potomac Edison territory, several of which have already been completed and a number of others will be completed during the year. The enlarged facilities of the Standard Lime and Stone Company have been completed. North American Cement Corporation has likewise enlarged its Security, Md. plant. The construction program of the Lehigh Portland Cement Company is progressing.

Construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company is progressing on schedule and service will be required about August 1.

State To Get $490 Million For New Roads

Federal Highway Program Outlined

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP) — Maryland probably will receive about 490 million dollars during the next 13 years under terms of the mammoth highway bill approved today by Congress.

Rep. George H. Fallon (D-Md), co-sponsor of the bill, said most of the money will go for construction of "broad, straight, trouble-free roads, four to eight lanes wide."

They will tie in with a new 42,000-mile national network of highways to be built under the biggest nondefense program in the nation's history.

Bigger Percentage

Fallon said in addition to funds for the interstate system, Maryland will get a larger sum for building new primary, secondary and urban roads.

Under existing legislation the federal government contributes on a 50-50 matching basis and the State would receive $9,500,000 for primary secondary and urban roads during the fiscal year beginning next Sunday. The Fallon bill increases that amount to $13,300,000.

For 1958 and 1959, Maryland will receive 20 million dollars for its state and city roads and $56,400,000 more for Maryland's part of the interstate system.

Beginning in 1960, Fallon said, the federal aid will be apportioned on the basis of the estimated cost of the interstate highway system over a 10-year period.

Maryland officials have estimated that cost to be about 400 million, with the state getting about 40 million each year for the 10 years beginning in 1960.

Will Restudy Projects

As far as the primary, secondary and urban roads are concerned, Congress will continue to reconsider them each two years. Only road projects which have the approval of the federal government's Bureau of Public Roads will be eligible for the 90 per cent aid provided in the new bill.

Four such highways are the Baltimore - Washington Expressway, and U.S. 40, now in use; the Jones Falls Expressway through Baltimore, a small part of which is now under construction, and the so-called Northeast Radial, still in the planning stages, which would form the northern side of a proposed highway ring around the inner city.

TB, Cancer Disclosed In Survey

A final report on the recent mass chest X-ray survey shows that some 38 of the more than 5,000 persons who participated have chest conditions which require investigation or attention.

Full-size X-rays taken at the Health Department offices here disclosed nine possible cases of tuberculosis.

Another five of the persons were suffering from ailments tentatively diagnosed as cancer.

Heart abnormalities were disclosed in seven others, and other chest conditions which need investigation were noted for 10 persons.

Six other citizens of the county were found to be suffering from silicosis and one person was found to be suffering from a goiter.

Six others for whom large X-rays were ordered were found to be free from any chest abnormality.

During the annual chest survey, which began here in mid-March, almost 5,200 citizens of Allegany County took advantage of the visit of the mobile X-ray unit, sponsored by the Allegany-Garrett and state TB associations and the county and state health departments.

The miniature pictures were studied by state health physicians, who asked that full-sized pictures be taken of some 50 of the participants.

$465,003 Spent On Two Road Jobs In County

Report Covers 11-Month Period

Some $465,003.54 has been spent in the first 11 months of the fiscal year now ending on the Mt. Savage School Road and the approach road to the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company plant at North Branch, according to a report from the State Roads Commission to the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Both of these projects are supervised by the SRC although the costs are borne by the federal government and the county commissioners.

The report shows that as of last July 1, the SRC had a balance of $306,463.72 for these two projects. Additional receipts of $105,650 from the federal government and $84,712 from the county commissioners bring to $496,825.72 the total cash funds available for the jobs.

Of that amount $9,463.17 has been spent for already completed projects on the Mt. Savage School road job. Another $347,404.86 was spent for projects still in progress in conjunction with that road. Some $108,125.51 has been spent on the North Branch road linking State Route 51 and the PPG plant.

The cash balance for the two projects as of May 31 was $31,822.18. Additional anticipated receipts of $445,600 from the federal aid agreements and $8,022.76 from the county commissioners would bring the estimated balance after those receipts of $485,444.94, which is also the estimated expenditures needed to complete the projects in progress.
